Pak stays in FATF 'grey list' for terror financing

The global body against money laundering and terror financing — Financial Action Task Force (FATF) — on Friday retained Pakistan on its 'grey list' for failing to check money laundering, leading to terror financing, and asked Islamabad to investigate and prosecute senior leaders of UN-designated terror groups, including Lashkar-e-Taiba founder Hafiz Saeed and Jaish-e-Mohammed (JeM) chief Masood Azhar. P10

Many not in sync with Centre's roadmap; Mehbooba will abstain if special status is not restored, but PDP will contest state elections

Day after, parties push for J&K statehood before poll

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar/New Delhi

A day after the Centre unveiled its roadmap for the resumption of the democratic process in J&K, leaders of several parties said restoration of statehood must precede Assembly elections, while PDP chief Mehbooba Mufti claimed she would not enter the fray till special status under Article 370 is restored, though her party would.

Explaining her rationale, Mehbooba said, "Otherwise they will say I am doing it for political gains. If PDP wins the polls, I will not be chief minister." However, she said that her party would contest the polls as it cannot leave any democratic space, otherwise it will be taken away by other forces.

Mehbooba is the third J&K leader to decide not to contest polls. NC vice-president Omar Abdullah and another party leader Aga Ruhullah have already made their entering the fray conditional to the restoration of full statehood.

Senior National Conference leader and Gupkar Alliance coordinator Justice (Retd) Hasnain Masoodi said holding of polls while J&K remains a Union Territory is not acceptable. "In Assam, they kept on hold the delimitation process and held Assembly elections while here they say delimitation will precede elections (while it remains a UT)," he pointed out. Another NC leader Imran Nabi Dar said the party's position is clear: grant of statehood should be the first confidence building measure of the Centre.

Articulating the stand of the Congress, senior party leader P Chidambaram said: "Congress and other J&K parties and leaders want statehood first and elections afterwards. Government's response is elections first and statehood later. The horse pulls the cart. A state must conduct elections. Only such elections will be free and fair. Why does the government want the cart in front and the horse behind? It is bizarre."

Senior CPI (M) leader Mohammad Yousuf Tarigami, who is also spokesperson of the Gupkar Alliance, told this newspaper that they had not attended the all-party meet in Delhi for holding elections. "None of us had gone there to demand elections."

Union Home Minister Amit Shah had on Thursday told the all-party meeting chaired by Prime Minister Narendra Modi that while the Centre is committed to restoring statehood, it will happen after the delimitation process and the Assembly elections are over. "We did not get answers to our concerns. The PM did not offer anything concrete in terms of assurances," Tarigami said. P10

TAX RELIEF FOR COVID TREATMENT

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

IN a huge relief to Covid patients and their families, the Centre on Friday said all payments made by an employer towards an employee's Covid-19 treatment as well as ex-gratia payments made to the family in case of death, will be exempt from tax.

Acknowledging the large number of deaths and the financial difficulties faced by the family members of Covid victims, the finance ministry said many employers and organisations have extended financial help to such families. "In order to provide relief to the family members of such taxpayer, it has been decided to provide income-tax exemption to ex-gratia payment received by family members of a person from the employer of such person or from other person on the death of the person on account of Covid-19 during FY2019-20 and subsequent years," it stated.

While full exemption will be offered for any amount received from the employer, it shall be limited to ₹10 lakh if the amount is received from any other entity or person.

Shailesh Kumar, partner, Nangia & Co, said, "Though the relief is granted retrospectively from FY20 onwards, since the due date for filing ITR for FY20 has already expired, it would be important to see whether the government revives the time limit for filing ITR for FY20."

The finance ministry has also extended some key tax compliance deadlines. These include the last date for furnishing TDS certificate in Form 16 to the employees by employers, which has been extended from July 15 to July 31. The deadline for making payments under the Vivad Se Vishwas direct tax dispute resolution scheme has also been extended by two months till August 31. Taxpayers can make payments till October 31 with an additional amount of interest.

J&K student lands dream Amazon job

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Tumakuru

IF it was not for BSNL fibernet at home at Khanabal in Anantnag district of Jammu & Kashmir, Kaisar Shabir would not have attended online interviews with companies scouting for talent under 'campus selection' in December 2020.

Kaisar Shabir

Kaisar, who graduated from Siddaganga Institute of Technology here, has been appointed as a software development engineer with Amazon after training, and his salary package is Rs 31.97 lakh per year. This is the highest among 700 Bachelor of Engineering students from SIT who got placed through campus recruitment.

"I was tense as the network dropped at times at our home. But thankfully it didn't. I am sure interviewers would have rescheduled my interview if there were any internet issues," said Kaisar.

"It would have been even better if the mobile network was working at that time. But BSNL proved helpful," he said.

After being selected, he worked from home, and now he is joining Amazon's Bengaluru office to work offline. "I don't have dreams of going abroad. I want to crack the UPSC in future and serve in India," he said.

Task force to oversee learning continuity

Education dept decision comes after Devi Shetty panel recommended reopening of schools in a phased manner

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE education department has decided to constitute a task force to ensure learning continuity among schoolchildren.

This comes after cardiologist Dr Devi Shetty, head of a committee on tackling third wave, submitted his interim report to Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa recently, encouraging reopening of educational institutions in a phased manner.

On Friday, a meeting with people from different walks of life and experts was held to get suggestions on continuity of learning, provision of learning materials and continuous evaluation.

Primary and Secondary Education Minister S Suresh Kumar said opinions aired during the meeting will be consolidated and a decision will be taken on reopening of schools. The advice of the health department will also be sought before taking any decision on starting offline classes, he added.

"Keeping children away from school for long is not good for their welfare. At the meeting, representatives of different organisations talked about parents wanting their wards to go back to school. Others suggested decentralised unlocking of schools just as the state did the previous year with the Vidyagama programme. Some also recommended continuing with the learning process at taluk, village, hobli and city level. Suggestions were made on different ways to get teachers to reach out to students in a physical space," he said.

Some representatives said students should be allowed to visit schools once a week and get their doubts cleared. Those unable to come to school should be helped by gram panchayat officials and social workers, he added.

Others suggested that as per the Dr Devi Shetty report, schools should be started taking into consideration the positivity rate in the region or relaunch the Vidyagama programme on school premises, he said, adding that a decision will be taken by the task force.

Discussions were held on evaluation – whether it should be continuous, trimester, half-yearly or annual. The task force will decide on this aspect too, he added.

Suresh Kumar asked officials to ensure that children get their textbooks as soon as possible and midday meal rations are distributed.

A meeting is scheduled on June 28 to discuss ways to hold the SSLC examination. Deputy commissioners, zilla panchayat CEOs, superintendents of police, district health officers and other district level officials will take part in the meeting.

IT professionals form a significant chunk of the workforce on Balagere Road

Work from home a nightmare for techies near ORR

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

WORK from home is turning out to be a daily nightmare for IT professionals residing along the stretch of Balagere Road, Panathur Dinne and Gunjur Road, all within 4 km of the Outer Ring Road. For, the local cable operator has established a monopoly over distribution of internet connectivity and allegedly refuses to allow any of the major players enter the area.

Video calls dropping, client calls abruptly cut off, or calls dying during trouble shooting, many of them involving international customers, are common occurrences in the lives of over 5,000 residents here.

Repeated pleas to their internet provider and open or covert attempts to bring in other providers have failed due to the clout wielded by Praveen B L of Zednet, who is the undisputed leader here.

IT professionals spoke to The New Indian Express from various apartments, but insisted that their names be changed. The affected individuals have just launched a petition on change.org. The petition, addressed to the Chief Minister and Police Commissioner among others, stated that they were at the mercy of a local cable operator. "He has tie-up with only Metronet/Railwire and does not allow any stable service provider like Airtel, Tata, Act, JioFiber, etc. to come to these areas, threatening to cut the installation wires or even beat up the people of the other Internet Service Providers who come to do installation," it said. The petition said that their jobs were at stake during the pandemic due to this poor connectivity issue.

Praveen Gowda (name changed), a software professional, said that it is tough to even reach Zednet to sort out the internet issues. "Somehow, we are trying to manage by using mobile hotspots or gadgets like dongles. But we need high speed, unlimited connection to do our jobs smoothly," he said.

Another resident said that nearly 85 per cent of the IT professional here are not locals. "We are mostly from North and the Eastern parts of the country and also Andhra Pradesh. The fact that we do not know local politics and have no influence in the area gives the concern an edge over us."

S Karthik, a resident, said, "Our apartment issued NoCs to Airtel, Jio and Tata to give us the connection. We came to know through employees there that they were worried due to threats from Zednet staff."

Praveen denied all the charges against him and his company. "I am only one of the partners at Zednet. All charges are cent per cent false. I am not some goonda. I have a background in the telecom industry for 20 years and am running this business for 11 years here," he claimed.

KIA air traffic nosedives due to Covid pandemic

Highest single-day air traffic movements: 555 on February 27, 2021

Total number of airlines: 23 (8 Domestic; 15 Cargo)

Domestic destinations: 70

13 Air bubble routes

Top three domestic destinations: Delhi, Kolkata and Mumbai

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

The massive beating that the aviation industry has taken due to Covid-19 is reflected in an unprecedented dip in passenger traffic at the Kempegowda International Airport (KIA). A mere 10.91 million passengers have flown through it in the fiscal 2020-21 after operations restarted on May 25 last year, which is a 66 per cent drop over the corresponding period the previous year.

The airport operator, Bangalore International Airport Limited (BIAL), stated that 10.45 million passengers flew domestic routes as compared to 27.78 million in 2019-20. The domestic sector alone saw a 63 per cent drop.

But the much bigger impact was on the international front which saw only 0.46 million passengers as against four million last financial year, which is a 90 per cent slump. "This is mainly attributed to continued suspension of international flights and Covid restrictions across the globe. After showing signs of recovery during the middle of the fiscal year, the traffic dropped significantly due to the rise in Covid cases in India, beginning February 2021," the BIAL release said.

Reduced slots for airlines, as recommended by the Director General of Civil Aviation, too added to lower numbers, it said.

"Air Traffic Movements (arrivals and departures) dropped by 50 per cent to 1,13,993 from 2,31,051 in 2019-20. While domestic movements reduced by 49 per cent at 1,02,801, international traffic saw 11,192 movements, lower by 61 per cent in the last 311 days of operations," it said.

26th June: Most scientists believe that the world consists of matter and that consciousness is a product of chemical reactions in our brains. Most astrologers think the opposite and believe that the universe is made up of consciousness and that the material world emerges from what they call pure Mind, with a capital 'm'. Either theory works for me!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Try to remember that with the Moon approaching a visionary relationship with Neptune, you are in an idealistic mood. Yet your ambitions are being fuelled by hopes which may be unreasonable and others may complain that you have a rather outsize ego.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Idealistic, inspirational, religious and imaginative Taureans should come into their own under today's high-minded planetary impulses. All of you will find that overseas contacts and travel plans assume a more pressing importance than in the past.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
The Moon shifts its position ever so gradually, bringing one brief phase to an end. You may begin to see developments, which once seemed incredibly dramatic, through new sober and down-to-earth eyes. The point to remember at the moment is that endings always give way to new beginnings.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
After all you've endured on the personal level, you may be inclined to resent other people. I don't think that anyone can blame you for the way you feel, but for your own sake, you must realise that the future is more important than the past. Now could be the time to let go.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
During the next few weeks you should ensure that any adjustments in your earnings and joint finances will be to your long-term advantage. Don't be embarrassed about the need to look after number one. And don't be backward about coming forward!

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Over the next month or two you must give full rein to your utterly unique and individual talents. Those artistic and creative aspects of the Virgoan character, about which I have already spoken in previous columns, are growing daily more intense. Believe in yourself!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
No matter how turbulent the situation becomes, this may be one of the most exciting periods since last year. Family affairs seem to be drifting towards a state of high drama and happy gatherings are on the cards. It's also, by the way, a good time to dance the night away!

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
As the weekend progresses it will become clear that travel prospects are looking more favourable and that misunderstandings can now be cleared up. You'll probably hear a snippet of very useful news, one which I think could introduce you to a whole new outlook on life.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Sagittarians are not always known as the world's greatest charmers -- they're usually much too truthful. Yet I have a feeling that you may have to withdraw or qualify a number of recent statements, no matter whether you do have the facts on your side.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
The winds of change are blowing through Capricorn with a gentle insistency. You are being pushed towards a future which is more compassionate, imaginative and much more deeply satisfying than in the past. Your travel stars are also looking pretty lively, so if you fancy a trip somewhere, go for it!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
A sociable start to the day could be followed by a more reclusive phase. You may find that there are certain meetings and gatherings you would rather cancel. It all depends on who exactly is involved, and where you're meeting them. Take it one step at a time.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You may as well burn the candle at both ends - after all, you only live once. Your social, romantic and emotional stars have scarcely ever been better, and I wouldn't want you to miss significant opportunities. Neither would I want you to miss out on a new friendship.

JDS wants spl session to discuss Covid, other issues

Bengaluru: The JDS on Friday urged the Governor to convene a special session of the state legislature to discuss the Covid-19 situation, allegations against the State government and other important issues, including the Mekedatu project. In a letter to Governor Vajubhai Vala, former CM and JDS leader HD Kumaraswamy said the Covid situation in the state continues to be grim, and the relief package announced by the government is inadequate. "The government should have consulted leaders from all parties and MLAs before announcing the relief package," he said.

CM secy offered `10L to JDS councillor: Revanna

Hassan: Former minister HD Revanna on Friday alleged that Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa's political secretary NR Santosh offered Rs 10 lakh to a JDS councillor of Arasikere city municipality to join the BJP. He told a press conference that Santosh had sent the money on Thursday through his followers, Sikandar and Harshavardhan, to the residence of Kalaiarasi, and threatened her to join the BJP.

Revanna, who displayed the Rs 10 lakh given to Kalaiarasi, demanded that the state government refer the issue to the CBI, and probe the matter without bias. Santosh wants to take control of the CMC, as he is reportedly planning to contest the 2023 assembly elections on a BJP ticket from Arasikere constituency, he said.

RAMESH USES PRESSURE TO GET BACK BERTH

To meet Fadnavis; will decide on resigning as MLA next week; wants party to help sort out legal issues

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR @ Belagavi

THE architect of the BJP government in the state, former minister Ramesh Jarkiholi, has given an ultimatum to the party high command, hinting that he would resign from the post of MLA shortly, if the party fails to help him clear legal hurdles to return to the cabinet.

Expressing deep resentment at being sidelined by the party leadership, an agitated Jarkiholi said in Belagavi on Thursday that he would shortly meet his "godfather", former Maharashtra Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis, and take a final call on quitting his assembly seat.

On a visit to Mysuru on Friday, he said, "I had made up my mind to resign as MLA. I have restrained myself following advice from seniors and well-wishers."

Complaining that some leaders within his party were trying to suppress him politically, Jarkiholi said, "I am hurt by some people in the BJP." Wondering how news of his plans to resign got leaked a few days ago, Jarkiholi said he had confided about it only among close associates.

Former minister Ramesh Jarkiholi, his brother Lakhan Jarkiholi and brother-in-law Ambirao on board a private flight to Mysuru to visit Suttur Mutt

Asked why he was taking a hasty decision to quit, Jarkiholi said, "My rivals may have thought they succeeded in finishing me politically. They are wrong. I have brothers, and children in the family are strongly by my side. We are ready to take on challenges," he said.

He admitted that he had met Fadnavis in Mumbai last week, but did not lobby for a cabinet berth. However, he said that he had the powers to make MLAs ministers in the cabinet.

Recalling his meeting with Fadnavis, Jarkiholi said he met him only when he decided to topple the Congress-JDS coalition.

JARKIHOLI VISITS SUTTUR MUTT

Earlier on Thursday, Jarkiholi visited Suttur Matt in Mysuru, along with brother Lakhan Jarkiholi and brother-in-law Ambirao. He said he met the Swami of Sutturu Matt to express his condolences to his departed mother, and denied reports that his meeting had anything to do with politics. One of his close associates said he will soon inducted in cabinet again.

Exam over, waiting for results: Yogeeshwara

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

"WE have written the examinations, and are waiting for results," was Tourism Minister C P Yogeeshwara's cryptic reaction to questions on dissidence in the BJP. He may have been referring to his recent meeting with BJP General Secretary Arun Singh.

Yogeeshwara, who had called for a press meet on Friday, said he was working to strengthen the party in Old Mysuru. "What is wrong if Yediyurappa continues as CM for the next two years?" he asked, and said he had been told not to issue statements on the leadership issue in public.

He said the party needs to grow stronger, and its weakness lay in its collusion with Congress and JDS members. He said he was raising issues with the central leadership to ensure that the government does not "become a coalition or adjustment politics". Yogeeshwara said the era of certain Vokkaliga leaders in the Congress and JDS is over, and it is now the era of BJP Vokkaliga leaders. Yogeshwara is a five-time MLA from different parties.

Meanwhile, sources said that CM B S Yediyurappa and his family gathered for a family dinner at a private resort at the foothills of Nandi Hills on Wednesday evening. It was after that meeting that party vice-president B Y Vijayendra left for New Delhi on a hush-hush visit.

On Friday, highly-placed BJP sources claimed that Yediyurappa slipped out of Cauvery around 6.30am in an unofficial car, and drove to Home Minister Basavaraj Bommai's residence in RT Nagar. Later, he visited the residence of DyCM Govind Karjol and Laxman Savadi's residence, and returned home at 9.30am. When TNIE cross-checked with sources in the CMO, they said he did not visit anyone on Friday morning, either in a private or official car. One source also claimed that BJP General Secretary Bhupendra Yadav had visited Karnataka, but Yadavsaid that he had not come down south. Another source said the party's Central leadership is meeting in about a week's time to decide on leadership in UP, Uttarakhand and Gujarat, which are going to polls in 2022.

RAVI, YOGEESHWARA LEAVE FOR DELHI

In a day of continuing developments, Yogeeshwara left for Delhi on a late evening flight. Earlier in the evening, National General Secretary CT Ravi left for Delhi, after participating in a BJP office-bearers meeting. Meanwhile, BJP state vice-president BY Vijayendra, who was in Delhi, returned to Bengaluru on Friday.

Delta-plus variant under control for now: CM

Yediyurappa calls for close monitoring at borders, testing of those arriving from Maharashtra, Kerala

Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa chairs a meeting of ministers and officials to discuss the Covid situation, in Bengaluru on Friday

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister B S Yediyurappa on Friday said that the new Delta-plus variant of Covid-19 is under control for now in the state. Yediyurappa, who convened a meeting of officials and ministers on Friday evening to assess the pandemic situation in Karnataka, stressed that more vigil must be exercised at the Maharashtra and Kerala borders. Currently, there is no restriction or prohibition on inter-state travel, but the CM has asked officials to closely monitor and test those arriving in Karnataka from these two states.

"The Delta-plus cases are under control in the state, but we must keep vigil. Maharashtra has been reporting a high number of cases with the new variant. The second wave refusing to subside in Maharashtra and Kerala is a matter of concern. All those arriving from these two states should be subjected to testing and monitored closely," Yediyurappa told officials.

Following the interim report submitted to the government by the expert committee on the third wave, led by Dr Devi Prasad Shetty, the CM has instructed officials to identify malnourished children and ensure timely and adequate nutrition.

WEDDINGS ALLOWED, BUT WITH 40 INVITEES ONLY

The government on Friday issued orders on further relaxations for weddings and related gatherings in the state. Starting Monday, weddings will be allowed at hotels, party halls or resorts, but with a cap of 40 persons. "Those organising marriages shall obtain prior permission from the authority concerned, i.e., Joint Commissioner of the BBMP Zone in BBMP area or tahsildar concerned at the taluks. The officer shall issue 40 passes per marriage function by name. Only people with passes shall be allowed to attend the marriage function and passes shall not be transferable," said the order. Those organising weddings as well as owners of wedding halls will be liable for action as per the Kamataka Epidemic Diseases Act 2020, Disaster Management Act, 2005, if Covid-19 protocols and guidelines are not followed.

No need to panic about new variant: Sudhakar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

HEALTH Minister Dr K Sudhakar on Friday said that there was no need to panic about the Delta-plus variant of the SARS-CoV-2 virus. "There are two cases of the new variant — one in Bengaluru and the other in Mysuru, both with mild symptoms. The Mysuru patient has completely recovered," he told reporters.

The primary contacts of both the patients have tested negative for Covid-19. "Therefore, there is no need to panic. Genome sequencing is being done each day to detect new strains," Dr Sudhakar said. Six genome sequencing labs will be set up in Bengaluru, Mysuru, Shivamogga, Hubballi, Mangaluru and Vijayapura, he added. He also disclosed that there will be a difference in the treatment protocol of the Delta and Delta-plus variants and it will be discussed with Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa.

Further, with a surge in cases in Kerala (where the positivity rate is more than 10 per cent), more tests will be conducted in the border areas. "We have instructed the district administrations to conduct more tests on the border... it is not appropriate to seal the border. We need to be cautious at bus stands and railway stations," the minister said.

Meanwhile, regarding the treatment protocol, Dr Ravindra Mehta, senior consultant and HoD, Pulmonology and Interventional Pulmonology, Apollo Speciality Hospitals, said, "So far, there is no change in the treatment protocol. It is known that for the Delta variants, monoclonal antibody cocktail works. However, this was known only during the end of the second wave and not tried on many. Going by this, it can be used to tackle the Delta-plus variant also."

6 vaccines to be available by Sept

CHETANA BELAGERE @Bengaluru

WHILE it is expected that the country will face a third wave by September, the chairman of National Technical Advisory Group on Immunisation (NTAGI), Dr Narendra Kumar Arora, has said that India can expect at least six more vaccines to be available by then. Of the six vaccines in the pipeline is the world's first DNA-plasmid vaccine by Zydus-Cadilla, which is made in India. The Health Ministry expects to procure 30-35 crore doses by July to enable vaccinating one crore people a day.

In a statement released to the media, from excerpts of an interview to Department of Science and Technology's 'Indian Science Channel', Dr Arora, chairman of Covid-19 Working Group of the NTAGI, said, "The trials are quite encouraging. We are hopeful that they will be available by September." Along with Zydus's vaccine, the country is also expecting Biological E's protein sub-unit vaccine. According to NTAGI, Biological E's made-in-India vaccine is expected to have 90 per cent efficacy against Covid-19, and is likely to be a game-changer in the fight against the pandemic. The vaccine, called Corbevax, is similar to the Novavax vaccine, which is more than 90% effective, including against the SARS-CoV-2 variants.

Meanwhile, HGCO19, India's first mRNA vaccine manufactured by Pune-based Genova in collaboration with Seattle-based HDT Biotech Corporation, using bits of genetic code to cause an immune response, and which can be stored in a temperature range of 2-8° Celsius, may also be available by September. The other two vaccines, are Novavax (known as Covovax in India) by Serum Institute of India and Johnson & Johnson, which are scheduled to be approved by then. Dr Arora said the production capacity of Bharat Biotech and SII will be increased phenomenally by the third week of July. "By August, we expect to procure 30-35 crore doses a month.This will enable us to vaccinate one crore persons a day," he said.

On the efficacy of the new vaccines, he said there is very little chance of severe disease, and death after vaccination is negligible. "If the efficacy is 80%, then 20% of the vaccinated may contract mild Covid. The vaccines available in India are capable of reducing the spread of the virus. If 60-70% people are vaccinated, the spread of the virus can be checked," he noted.

IMMUNITY FOR 6 MONTHS TO A YEAR

Dr Narendra Kumar Arora said the vaccine induced immunity can last for six months to a year.

He explained: "After vaccination immunity has been developed, and can be ascertained by tests; but there is also an invisible immunity developed. It is known as T-Cells which possess memory power. Henceforth whenever this virus will try to enter, the entire body starts to act against it. Thus, having antibody is not the only sign of our body's immunity power. Hence, there is no need to do antibody tests after vaccination."

Name of company	Vaccine	Type
Zydus Cadilla	ZyCoV D	DNA-plasmid vaccine
Biological E	Corbevax	Protein sub-unit vaccine
Gennova Biopharma	HGCO19	mRNA vaccine
Bharat Biotech	BBV154	Intra nasal vaccine
Serum Institute of India	Novavax	Recombinant nanoparticle protein-based vaccine
Johnson & Johnson	J&J	Viral vector vaccine

MIX AND MATCH VACCINES

Dr Arora said research may soon start on testing mix-and-match vaccines, in which doses of different vaccines can be taken instead of two doses of just one vaccine. He said although no research was done on this in India, within a few weeks such research may start as it is necessary to explore that possibility.

GENOME SEQUENCING TO BE INTENSIFIED

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

WHILE there has been a dip in new cases, the emergence of the Delta-plus variant has become a cause for worry. To address the issue, experts and members of the Covid Sequencing Task Force have suggested intensifying genome sequencing to larger populations.

According to the Health Department records, in the last six months, 2,300 genome samples have been sequenced by NIMHANS in coordination with the NCBS. As per the information from NIMHANS, the test results of 918 are still under way.

To increase sequencing, Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike has also partnered with Molecular Solutions Care Health LLP. Over the last two days, five samples of the seven who tested positive for the variant have been taken for sequencing. "As per the present guidelines, 5% of samples of those who tested positive are sent for genome sequencing. These are chosen based on the characteristics of the virus during RTP-CR tests. Talks are on to increase this percentage as the number of Delta-plus variant cases are rising," a BBMP official said.

A member of the task force explained that samples for genome sequencing are chosen based on the area where the cases are reported, the clusters and the regions. The results of the sequencing will be effective only when it is on a continuous basis and on a larger scale. At present, it is based on statistical models. "Discussions on intensifying the scale of testing are also being held with the National Centre for Disease Control and the ministry's coordination committee to have a larger web for genome sequencing. Talks are also on to have a separate strategy for Karnataka, compared to what India is following, because of its cosmopolitan nature and floating population," an expert said.

4th round of sero-survey in 3 dists from June 30

G SUBHASH CHANDRA @Chitradurga

THE Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR) will conduct the fourth round of national sero-survey to detect the prevalence of SARS-CoV-2 antibodies in the community. The survey will also be done in three districts of the state — Bengaluru, Chitradurga and Kalaburgi — from June 30. For the first time, children above the age of 6 will also be part of the survey.

The survey will be conducted by National Tuberculosis Institute, Bengaluru, in nine clusters under Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) limits, 11 clusters of Bengaluru Urban districts, and 10 clusters each in Chitradurga and Kalaburagi districts.

In a sero-survey, blood samples are tested for the presence of IgG (Immunoglobulin G) antibodies that determine a past infection due to the virus. Sero-surveys are also important to determine whether the disease has entered the community transmission stage or not. The ICMR's National Institute of Epidemiology in Chennai was the nodal agency for all the past surveys. The ICMR-National Institute for Research in Tuberculosis (Formerly Tuberculosis Research Centre) is supervising the fourth survey.

The survey in Chitradurga will be done in Hiriyur town, Koodlahalli and Maradihalli in Hiriyur taluk, Torebailu-Bheemasamudra, Doddabadehalli in Challakere taluk, Talikatte in Holalkere taluk, Yelagodu Gollarahatti in Chitradurga taluk, Kondlahalli in Molakalmuru taluk, Channasamudra in Hosadurga taluk, District Hospital at Chitradurga and also Ward No 11 in the hospital.

Vax drive for transgenders

ENS @Bengaluru

COMMEMORATING 'Pride Month', Manipal Hospitals will be launching its first Sputnik V commercial Covid-19 vaccination drive on June 29. In a statement, the hospital said they are taking a stance against discriminatory practices against the LGBTQ community. From June 29 till July 3, they will be providing exclusive vaccination slots for the transgender community at the hospital on Old Airport Road.

"Slots for Sputnik-V, Covaxin and Covishield will be provided at a cost of Rs 1,145, Rs 1,410 and Rs 780, respectively," the hospital said in a statement, adding that many members of the LGBTQ community are already suffering from HIV, sex-reassignment complications, placing them at a higher risk of contracting Covid or being carriers. The drive will be part of the hospital's #Vax4ALL campaign.

SILVER LINING

At 614, B'luru reports lowest number of new cases so far

ENS @Bengaluru

Bengaluru logged the lowest number of new cases so far, with only 614 on Friday, ever since the second wave set in. Karnataka too saw low numbers with 3,310 new cases . The state, which was at the second spot in terms of highest positive cases in the country, has now come down to number three, after Kerala has overtaken the state.

Currently, there are over 60,000,00-plus Covid-19 cases in Maharashtra while Kerala has reported 28,65,872 cases and Karnataka with 28,26,754 cases. However, Karnataka's active cases are still higher than Kerala with 1,07,195 cases and Kerala has 1,00,234 cases. However, Maharashtra's active cases are 1,21,767. The positivity rate of the state has been seeing a downward trend, from 8.65% on June 15 to 8.54% on June 21 and 8.46% on June 24 and June 25 with 8.43%.

Meanwhile on Friday, the state reported 114 deaths.

DOSE DILEMMA

Shot or not? On home soil, NRIs in a bind over Chinese vaccines, doses

DIVYA CUTINHO @ Mangaluru

MANY Non-Resident Indians (NRIs) who have reached Dakshina Kannada from the Gulf countries after receiving their first dose of vaccine, mostly the Chinese vaccine Sinopharm, Pfizer BioNTech or Moderna, are caught in a Catch-22 situation, as the vaccines are not available here for their second dose.

A pending decision on including Covishield in the vaccination certificates of NRIs has now become a headache. But there is no proper forum to resolve all these issues. NRIs say they are helpless as the government has not nominated a deputy chairman for the NRI Forum of Karnataka, to tackle these difficulties.

Mohandas Kamath, an NRI from Kuwait, said many people returned to India after taking the first dose. "Approximately 2,000 NRIs are stuck here. The flight ban is expected to be lifted in August, and the vaccine issue should be resolved in advance so there is no further delay to fly out. Since visas of many NRIs are expected to expire, the government should intervene. The only forum for NRIs is headless." NRI association members have informed the embassy in Kuwait, and are hopeful that the issue will be resolved. There is no issue in Qatar, as Covishield is included in government records, and most of the NRIs there have taken both doses before travelling to India.

Meanwhile, for NRIs from UAE, the issue is different. An NRI working in Dubai said that since UAE has approved Covishield, those having certificates of both doses will not face any issue. "But there is no clarity on those who have taken the first dose of Covishield in UAE -- whether they should take the second dose in the UAE or here. If second dose is taken here, we are not sure if the Indian certificate for the second dose will be accepted in UAE or not."

Sarvotham Shetty, president, UAE Kannadigas, said non-approval of Covaxin has become a worry for NRIs waiting to travel to UAE. "However, the authorities are negotiating and trying to resolve the issue," he said.

CHINESE PRODUCT

Countries which relied on Chinese vaccines -- Chile, Bahrain, and the Seychelles -- are seeing a sudden spike in cases, raising doubts on efficacy

The two frontline Chinese vaccines are BBIP-CorV, developed by Sinopharm, and CoronaVac by SinoVac. Both vaccines are inactivated whole virus vaccines -- they use the actual virus but with its genetic material destroyed

The Sinopharm vaccine was trialled in the UAE, Egypt, and Morocco, and the 3 countries bought millions of doses

The SinoVac shot has a reported efficacy of 51% -- just meeting the WHO threshold of 50%. It was trialled in Indonesia, Brazil, and Chile, and has approval from more than 30 countries

Experts say inactivated vaccines have issues of low durability -- the length of time for which a shot is found to be effective -- and may require up to five doses for optimal protection.

Govt issues orders to attach Baig's assets

State is of the view that the ex-MLA acted as promoter and played key role in furthering IMA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE State Government has decided to attach movable and immovable properties of former minister R Roshan Baig in connection with the IMA Ponzi scam, in which he has been chargesheeted by the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI).

"...The state government prima facie is of the view that the ex-MLA Baig has acted as promoter and played a key role in the promotion of IMA Group and its business activities and has obtained financial gain from the said company," the government disclosed in a report submitted to the court.

IN THE HC

The division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice Suraj Govindaraj had passed three orders earlier, directing the government to take a stand on attaching Baig's properties. It had wondered why the government was keen not to touch the properties of Baig.

The government said that it has sent a communication to the BBMP and deputy commissioners of Bengaluru Urban and Bengaluru Rural districts and the Competent Authority and Special Officer for IMA, Harsh Gupta, to identify Baig's properties under Section 3(2) KPIDFE Act.

Gupta has also provided an affidavit of assets declared by Baig while filing his nomination papers for the 2018 Assembly elections. As soon as the property details are received, the notification will be issued to attach the properties, he stated.

'Can't be reimbursed'

The State Government informed the court that it cannot reimburse Rs 12.82 crore invested by IMA Group in infrastructure development works at VK Obaidullah Government School at Shivajinagar.

The court had directed the government to take a decision on the reimbursement and also to place on record the MoU entered with IMA on adopting the school.

Cops shoot at, nab 2 accused in ex-corporator's murder

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

IN a swift operation, the West division police nabbed two accused involved in the murder of former corporator of Chalavadipalya BBMP ward Rekha Kadiresh. The police shot at them after they allegedly attacked the police staff in a bid to escape.

Peter (46) and Surya (20), who allegedly hacked Rekha Kadiresh to death on Thursday, charged at the policemen with a dagger and were shot at, a police officer said.

Soon after the crime, teams headed by eight police inspectors were formed to arrest the culprits. They questioned around 50 people and four of them, who are relatives of the deceased, were detained.

"A close associate of Peter was picked up from the south-eastern part of the city on Friday and was questioned. He tipped us off that Peter and Surya were hiding at a vacant plot of land behind Pooja Wedding Hall on Magadi Road in Kamakshipalya," an officer said.

Police teams rushed to the spot around 1.30 pm. "The accused were consuming alcohol and we surrounded them. But trying to escape, they attacked our staff with daggers, injuring a police sub-inspector and a constable. Inspectors from Upparpet and Cottonpet stations fired a warning shot before shooting them in the leg. Both the accused and the injured police staff were rushed to a hospital," the officer said.

The police are yet to question the accused as they are under treatment. "Peter was earlier a gunman of Rekha's husband Kadiresh, who too was murdered. Surya is her relative. We are hunting for the other accused who assisted them in the crime," the officer said. The preliminary inquiry indicated personal rivalry behind the murder, he added.

WAR ON DRUGS

DRUGS WORTH Rs 50 CR TO BE DESTROYED TODAY

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

ON the occasion of International Day against Drug Abuse and Illicit Trafficking on Saturday, narcotic substances worth over Rs 50.23 crore seized by the police will be destroyed in all the districts, Home Minister Basavaraj Bommai informed on Friday.

Speaking to reporters, Bommai said that police heads of all the districts will destroy the psychotropic substances seized in the last 12 months. "This will be done as per prescribed procedure at all district headquarters, in the presence of committees as per the court orders," he added.

He said that in 2020, 4,066 cases were booked under the Narcotics Drugs and Psychotropic Substance (NDPS) Act, which led to massive seizures and arrest of 5,291 persons, and the drugs being destroyed now are part of those seizures.

For the first time in India, a case under PIT NDPS (Prevention of Illicit Trafficking of Narcotics Drugs and Psychotropic Substance) Act was registered in the state, he said. "It will be difficult for those booked under this Act to obtain bail," he added.

"Our war against drugs and psychotropic substances continues. Because of Covid, we will continue to spread awareness through social media platforms on the occasion and throughout the year. At the same time, police action against traffickers will be further intensified," Bommai said.

The Government Railway Police will also destroy 298 kilograms of ganja and 1 kg of Brown sugar recovered from railway stations and trains across Karnataka on Saturday morning.

A top railway source said, "These are seizures since 2006. They will be burnt at the incinerators at KIADB Industrial Area in Dobbaspet. The necessary permission has been obtained from the Karnataka State Pollution Control Board."

The work will be carried out by Ramky Enviro Engineers Private Limited.

The drugs which will be destroyed include over 23,829 kgs of ganja, 161 kgs of opium, 6.15 kg of hashish, 5.262 kgs of charas and others.

Fresh row in Lakshadweep: Farmers told to raze sheds in uninhabited islands

Given 7-day notice; farmers say structures part of traditional agricultural operations existing for decades

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kochi

AMID the continuing protests against the slew of reforms introduced by Lakshadweep administrator Praful Khoda Patel, a notice issued by the revenue department directing farmers to demolish the temporary structures erected in uninhabited islands has triggered another row.

The island revenue department issued the notices on June 24 directing farmers to remove the illegal constructions within seven days. Any objection should be filed before July 1. "If you fail to remove the illegal construction within the notice period, the competent authority will remove the construction and recover the cost for the purpose from you," says the notice issued by the block development officer. The notice says the construction violates Section 20 (1) (Diversion of Land) of Land Revenue and Tenancy Regulation 1965. According to this provision, any person holding land for any purpose wishes to divert such land or any part there for any other purpose shall get the permission of the competent authority. On April 28, the island administration had razed the sheds built by fishermen along the coastline of Kavaratti island. The sheds were built by the fishermen to keep their boats and fishing gear.

However, the residents of Lakshadweep, who have been cultivating the uninhabited islands for decades, have objected to the move. "The structures in question are temporary and cannot be demolished, as the farmers use them to store agricultural equipment, coconut and fertilisers. The sheds are also used by workers to take rest," said district panchayat member K I Nizamuddin. He said the structures have been existing for decades and are part of traditional agricultural operations. The existing tenancy regulation in the island and the Integrated Island Management Plan (IIMP) formulated by the Supreme Court permit the continuance of the sheds that were in existence before 2014. The livelihood of the scheduled tribe population will be affected if these sheds are removed, he said. According to Nizamuddin, there is no need to obtain a land diversion certificate as the agricultural land has not been diverted.

SRISAILAM PROJECT

AP, Telangana at loggerheads yet again

VV BALAKRISHNA @Hyderabad

A fresh controversy has erupted between Andhra Pradesh and Telangana over the very objective of Srisailam project, rising a question on whether it should be considered an irrigation or a hydel project.

While the AP government shot a letter on Thursday to Krishna River Management Board (KRMB) asking it to ensure that Telangana stops power generation at Srisailam, the TS officials are all set to remind the KRMB that Srisailam is not an irrigation project but a hydel project. In its letter, the AP government said that if the Telangana continues hydel power generation, the AP could not draw water for Chennai drinking water, Telugu Ganga, SRBC, KC Canal and Galeru-Nagiri project.

The TS officials, who received a copy of the AP letter on Friday, told TNIE that they would write a letter to KRMB indicating that Srisailam is a hydel project and not an irrigation project. The TS officials contended that the AP had assured waters of 19 tmcft for Srisailam Right Bank Canal (SRBC) and 15 tmcft for Chennai drinking water scheme from Srisailam.

Jog Falls to be made perennial, greens, officials oppose plan

The Karnataka government has finalised a ₹185 crore makeover plan for Jog Falls

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

TOURISM Minister CP Yogeshwar on Friday announced that the government had started the exercise of making Jog Falls a perennial waterfall and introduce speed boats to bring tourists from Kerala and Goa to Honnavar to visit the falls.

The minister said 200 cusecs of water will be released from Linganmakki dam for making the falls perennial. He added, the government has finalised tenders for Rs 185 crore to give the waterfall a makeover.

The project will be implemented by the energy department and the tourism department will construct two hotels of 1,000 rooms to handle the rush and the site was also in the heli-tourism circuit list. He made this announcement after holding a meeting with the tourism and energy department officials.

He also announced that speed boats will bring tourists from Goa and Kerala from the Arabian Sea to Honnavar port and from their they will travel 35 km by road to reach the site.

However, the proposal has not gone down well with environmentalists, biodiversity experts and even officials from the tourism department. "Earlier, the government wanted to install motors in the falls to pump up water to make it perennial and now they want to release water from the dam. The government is not understanding the sensitivity of the region. It is a biodiversity hotspot. Yogeshwar is keen on implementing it because it is Raghavendra's (chief minister's son's) pet project and it is his home constituency," an official seeking anonymity said.

Another official from the environment department said, "The minister and his team is reasoning that the project is being implemented in an area belonging to the energy department, but they are failing to understand that the area is in silos, it is abutting the waterfalls and the forest area. The loss will be permanent and irreparable."

Going on a safari? Take vax report too

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka forest department is planning to open safaris in a graded manner to adhere to the Covid protocol in each district. To manage the crowd in the safaris, the department is contemplating on making it mandatory for tourists to carry both the Covid vaccination certificates.

The exercise started after the Ministry of Environment, Forests and Climate Change and the National Tiger Conservation Authority issued orders to chief wildlife wardens permitting their opening.

While Kali Tiger Reserve and MM Hills have opened up to tourists, the two prime safari destinations — Bandipur and Nagarhole tiger reserves — are still out of bounds as they fall in the Kodagu, Chamarajanagar and Mysuru divisions, where lockdown restrictions are still in place.

> Earlier, when tourism was permitted, the rush was high and crowd management had become a challenge. We want it to be streamlined
> Forest department official

"We do not want to take any chances with our staffers and their families residing in the vicinity of forest areas. Also going by past experiences, when tourism was permitted, the rush was high and crowd management had become a challenge," a forest department official said. Additional Principal Chief Conservator of Forests, Wildlife, Subhash Malkhade clarified that the safaris will be opened division wise in accordance with the Covid protocol. At Bhadra and BRT, staffers are awaiting the final clearance from the district administrations and chief wildlife wardens. The safari and forest guest houses opened up on Thursday at the Kali Tiger Reserve.

PDS ration being claimed by proxies

AJITH M S @Mysuru

GURUMALAYYA from Kolathur village of T Narsipura died two years ago, but his family was shocked when they noticed that his ration share is being promptly claimed every month. The issue came to light when they went to delete his name.

They pulled up the records of other family members who died besides many from the neighbourhood and to their surprise over two dozen such cases were found in the village itself.

"Similar thing happened with my uncle R Mahadevayya, brother-in-law Nanjayya and one Sannamma. For all these years, none of the family members were taking the allocated provision, but it was promptly being claimed every month," said Ramesh. He said authorities were alerted about the matter in April itself but so far no action has been taken. "As soon as we learnt about the issue, we filed an RTI to know more about such cases. But since December, we have not got any reply," he added.

They said complaints were lodged with food and civil supplies officials at Bengaluru as well as at its office in Mysuru and also with the DC's office.

"We lodged complaints in April. Officials told us that we have submitted enough proof to nab the culprits, but so far nothing has happened," he said. The act has triggered suspicion of irregularities and black market in the supply of provision. "It's a clear case of irregularity and black market. Very often, we see officials proclaiming seizure of ration that is only the tip of an iceberg. Such instances should be targeted," said social activist Mahesh Sosale.

Officials at the food and civil supplies department were not available for comment.

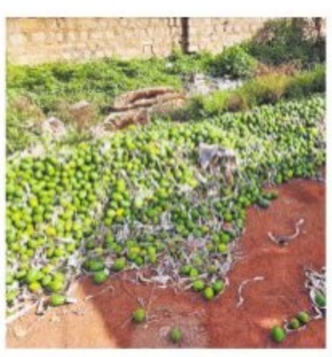
King of fruits dumped by the roadside after steep fall in price



Mangoes were dumped by the roadside in Srinivaspura of Kolar district | EXPRESS

V VELAYUDHAM @Kolar

With a steep fall in prices of Benishan or Banganapalli and Totapuri varieties of mangoes, growers are dumping the 'King of Fruits' by the roadside in Srinivaspura of Kolar district. Adding to farmers' woes, the Totapuri variety has been attacked by a fungal disease — anthracnose.

Growers are demanding compensation from the government. However, the government is yet to respond to their appeal.

Speaking to TNIE, Kolar District Mango Growers Association president Neelaturu Chinnappa Reddy said as compared to previous years, mango growers are suffering losses this year and are unable to bear the burden as prices have crashed.

He said there are no takers for Benishan and Totapuri varieties. In 2019, each tonne of Benishan was sold at ₹1 lakh, while last year it was ₹50,000 to ₹80,000. However, the prices have come down to as low as ₹8,000 to ₹15,000 this year. Farmers are finding it difficult to even cover the annual maintenance cost, he added.

Since there is no factory for mango pulp in Kolar and Chikkaballapur districts, farmers have to depend on such units in Tamil Nadu and Andhra Pradesh. With Totapuri being grown in both the neighbouring states, farmers belonging to Andhra Pradesh and Tamil Nadu are not heading to Srinivaspura for mangoes.

Moreover, the Andhra government has passed an order that merchants should purchase the Totapuri variety from local growers at ₹10,000 per tonne. Reddy said the variety is being grown in 60,000 hectares in Srinivaspura.

J&K TALKS A GOOD START, ADDRESS SENSE OF ALIENATION

At the outset, the Union government and all the Jammu & Kashmir political parties need to be commended for a successful meeting that was free of any animosity and rancour. Neither the government nor the J&K political leaders put forth any condition for participation in Thursday's meeting and the talks were free of blame games or name-calling for what happened on 5 August 2019. Although there was no concrete decision or announcement at the end of the meeting, there was unanimity on the need for holding of elections in the Union territory, or in the words of the government, the revival of the democratic process that has been stalled for the past three years. The Centre has realised that any election process will not enjoy legitimacy without the involvement of mainstream political parties such as the PDP and NC. The District Development Council elections held last year underlined the failure of the Centre's attempt to delegitimise these parties in order to create a political ecosystem bereft of the PDP and the NC. The two parties raised the issue of the restoration of Articles 370 and 35A, but they will only fall on deaf ears unless the Supreme Court overturns the decision that enjoys Parliamentary approval. The special status the erstwhile state enjoyed is a dead horse and its restoration will only be a mere slogan for political parties, nothing more.

But an election must not be an end in itself, it should be the start of a sustained effort to address the core issue, which is what Prime Minister Narendra Modi described as an attempt to remove "dil ki doori". The sense of alienation is deep and pervasive. So far the government has focused mainly on providing jobs, a corruption-free administration and economic development. But they are not enough. While unemployment and poverty provide a breeding ground for militancy, what feeds the urge to wield the gun is alienation, suspicion and distrust. Attempts or perceived moves to change the demographic character of J&K through a change in domicile laws only add to the sense of alienation. This has to stop or else the good start Thursday's meeting has yielded will come to naught.

A SMALL NATION THAT BEAT THE ODDS

The beauty of sport is that it gives you a chance to dream and turn it into reality. It enables us to pursue something elusive and extraordinary with intent and belief. On Wednesday, what New Zealand did was all about sport at its most sublime.

The Black Caps have played 449 Test matches in their history. Yet, inarguably, the most important Test they played was the one that took place across six days in Southampton for the World Test Championship title against mighty (in all senses) India. Small teams—small by every relevant metric including player pool, resources, population, size of the country—like New Zealand are limited in terms of ambition because of various constraints, from finance to pool of players or lack of it. But the Black Caps are different. Since the days of Ken Rutherford and Stephen Fleming, that hasn't affected them. While they lucked out because several of their all-time great cricketers—Kane Williamson, Ross Taylor, Tim Southee and Trent Boult—as well as the seemingly once-in-a-generation all-rounder Kyle Jamieson, came together at the same time, this is essentially what sport is all about: triumphing against odds. They didn't need to turn water into wine because they knew how to build a team that exceeded the sum of its parts. Each and every player in that squad fulfilled a specific role and all of them bought into the side's ethos.

Just take the example of B J Watling, their wicketkeeper standing in his final Test. He kept wickets on Day 6 with a dislocated right ring finger. Words like spirit and unity are also a truism in sports. Williamson, New Zealand's quiet, unassuming leader, also touched upon this during a poignant victory speech. He acknowledged that maybe his side does not have heroes, but they more than make up for it because of other more intangible traits. And unlike India, the Kiwis had already played two Tests against England in those conditions before the final, winning the second match handsomely. Test cricket couldn't have asked for a more deserving inaugural champion. That a small nation with limited resources could overshadow the Big Three (India, Australia and England) shows how sports is indeed a great leveller.

By inviting the J&K politicians for talks, some of the venom of regional politics has been neutralised and the path towards more substantive issues appears to have been cleared

JAMMU & KASHMIR: OPENING WINDOWS TOWARDS PEACE

LT GEN SYED ATA HASNAIN (RETD)

Former Commander, Srinagar-based 15 Corps. Now Chancellor, Central University of Kashmir

AMIT BANDRE

Jammu & Kashmir and peace are not synonymous; they have not been for a few generations. That is why when one starts talking of peace in that region, people start to wonder. Peace building and furtherance of narratives by consensus seem to have been the purpose of the meeting without agenda called by the prime minister on 24 June 2021 to discuss issues related to the political future of J&K. Mainstream politicians from both segments of the Union territory were invited; some of them were those who had been incarcerated a few months ago. It's the beauty of democracy and politics that these are things taken in the stride if one has to remain politically relevant.

Anyone who follows the situation in that region would realise that from 5 August 2019 onwards, the Government of India had a clear agenda and that was about ensuring full and final integration of J&K as part of India. Article 370 and related constitutional provisions were read down. The state was bifurcated into two Union territories with J&K remaining as one entity and Ladakh as the other. The security situation was managed through a series of proactive initiatives, reducing the footprint of terror. Recruitment of young local recruits reduced, after a surge. With the UT administration making strident efforts at enhancing the efficiency of governance and reducing corruption along with a genuine outreach to the citizens, fresh hopes of a better future seemed to develop in the people, although alienation was by no means overcome. Many became fence sitters and those actively involved in street agitation took a back seat since the security forces ensured effective clampdown and the separatist leaders were all detained as they continue to be even today. Internet mobile communication remained suspended for fairly long and this, although drawing the wrath of many human rights activists, also ensured that coordination, training, motivation and external communication with proxy masters across the LoC remained largely neutralised.

Despite the conduct of District Development Council (DDC) elections, the true political narratives that will carry the UT back to statehood status and enable Assembly elections were still missing due to two reasons. The first was of course the agony of the Covid pandemic and second the political mood and reality due to the changes brought on by the new constitutional status. The central leadership's assessment of the internal situation in J&K and the dire need for new political initiatives appeared to have resonance. However, what must not escape attention is also the fact that the current international and regional security environment also appear to provide the right window of opportunity to further stabilise J&K. With the US hell-bent on pulling out all its troops from Afghanistan and the Taliban knocking at the doors of Kabul, the focus of Pakistan has largely shifted to its western neighbour. It is aware that any wrong moves by it could well see powers alien to its interests enhance their influence in a region that Pakistan perceives as its backyard. That could also lead to an impact on the internal security environment of Pakistan, which it had taken more than two to three years to stabilise with an out-of-proportion deployment of its security forces. A third front in J&K is not conducive to Pakistan's interests and it cannot handle all three simultaneously. Sensing this situation, its own precarious economic condition and the FATF monitoring under which it yet remains, Pakistan chose a ceasefire along the LoC, a step back from active interference in J&K and even some back-channel contacts with India. However, by making bizarre demands such as immediate restoration of Article 370 in J&K for which it has no locus standi, it hopes to keep its influence alive.

> Whatever the future outcomes of talks and consultations, having Delhi and Srinagar/Jammu on the same wavelength is an imperative to defeat anti-national trends and keep proxy influence out of reckoning in J&K. Hopefully this will just be the beginning of more consultation and opinion-sharing, both dire needs

Thus with J&K in far less international focus and reasonably outside Pakistan's scope of active interference, the process of normalisation can proceed at a faster pace. With efforts towards creation of a new political community not having met the desired success, it is back to the old guard that had surprisingly displayed its ability to continue influencing the political discourse as it did with the DDC elections. The central leadership decided not to waste the opportunity and changed its political stance towards the old guard that has thus far come together on a platform of unity. Politics is all about flexibility and grabbing opportunities. By inviting the J&K politicians for talks, some of the venom of regional politics has been neutralised and the path towards more substantive issues appears to have been cleared. It's also clear that the demand for restoration of Article 370, which is also sub judice, is a maximalist position taken by some of the J&K leaders in the hope that the compromise would mean at least restoration of statehood. It is only now that one is realising how the downgrading of J&K's status to that of a UT is actually a trump card with which the central leadership played out a political ploy to keep the mainstream J&K political leadership under control. Statehood is becoming the bottom line, with special status receding into the background and eventually disappearing.

Although one was keenly looking out for political statements after the three-hour talks, it is only prudent not to expect any outcomes from what should be the first of many such meetings. What the central leadership clarified beyond any doubt is the fact that the nation and J&K need not stare at a political abyss much longer and that eventually delimitation would be completed and Assembly elections held. That will restore full democracy before which probably statehood too would be granted. None of the J&K politicians appeared to have any objection towards delimitation. To the uninitiated, delimitation may appear a dirty word, forgetting that the same also took place in J&K in 1963, 1975 and 1995 as per the constitutional requirement.

Prime Minister Modi's coinage on 'Dil ki Doori and Dilli ki Doori' that need to be reduced, should give impetus to the age-old Indian Army concept of winning hearts and minds; it should now be done with a political backing too. Whatever the future outcomes of talks and consultations, having Delhi and Srinagar/Jammu on the same wavelength is an imperative to defeat anti-national trends and keep proxy influence out of reckoning in J&K. Hopefully this will just be the beginning of more consultation and opinion-sharing, both dire needs.

THE GOOD, THE BAD AND THE UGLY DURING COVID

NANDITHA KRISHNA

Historian, environmentalist and writer based in Chennai

A disaster brings out the best and the worst in people. During the lockdown, I was trying to find an oxygen concentrator for a friend who was in home isolation with Covid and faced breathing difficulties. As a result, I stumbled upon a large network of black marketeers who are thriving in this pandemic.

First, the Good. The common people have rallied, as always, some giving food for Covid patients, some providing care for elders and children, doing their shopping, providing pet care and so on. Throughout this and the previous lockdown in Chennai, Blue Cross of India's volunteers went around feeding homeless strays, who generally live on scraps thrown by passing pedestrians and tea stall owners, all of which cease in a lockdown. During the floods of 2015, private individuals and associations took out boats to save those inundated in water and several kitchens were set up to feed the poor. Living in Chennai, which has seen regular disasters ranging from floods and droughts to cyclones and now this pandemic, one gets inured to calamities, and to seeing the best in people.

But this time we are seeing the worst—and not just in Chennai. The price of everything required to avoid or treat the pandemic shot through the roof. An N95 mask cost ₹250. An oxygen concentrator, normally costing ₹35,000-40,000, shot up to ₹1,25,000 in Chennai and between ₹2-3 lakh in the richer cities of Mumbai and Delhi. Remdesivir cost ₹25,000 per vial in the black market. Ambulance services cost a bomb. Numerous accounts of price rise were reported: airfares peaked, while a bus ticket worth ₹500 was sold for ₹4,000 the day before the lockdown. Migrant workers had to pay through their nose for a ticket to go home. Vegetables and groceries—even those supplied by the government—became more expensive. Meanwhile, the lockdown closed the ration shops and kirana stores on which the poor and the middle class depended, while e-commerce platforms, to which few have access, were categorised as essential services and permitted to function.

This is the Bad—the evil Indian black marketeer who profits on people's distress. This has been a part of India's social history: usurers who lend money at exorbitant rates during a drought or illness or weddings and money lenders who feed on people's tragedies, making them indebted for life. What do these people learn at school or from their parents? Obviously, they are not taught the difference between right and wrong!

The British enacted the Epidemic Diseases Act of 1897 to tackle bubonic plague in Mumbai and contain epidemics by providing special powers to the government to control the spread of disease. According to this law, anyone disobeying the orders of a public servant could be punished under Section 188 of the Indian Penal Code. Chapter X of India's Disaster Management Act of 2005 is full of punishments and penalties. However, Section 53—"Punishment for misappropriation of money or materials, etc.,"—only punishes the guilty for two years with maybe a fine. It does not mention black marketing. Meanwhile, the Prevention of Black Marketing and Maintenance of Supplies of Essential Commodities Act, 1980, provides that the "maximum period for which any person may be detained... shall be six months from the date of detention." Ridiculous! As if black marketeers care if they are locked up for six months. They will come out and expand their business.

> A large network of black marketeers are thriving in this pandemic. This has been a part of India's social history: usurers who lend money at exorbitant rates during a drought or illness or weddings and money lenders who feed on people's tragedies. We need stricter laws to tackle this menace

India never expected a public health emergency like Covid-19. The country ranks 179 out of 189 in healthcare expenditure in the annual budget. Rates of hospitalisation are 3-4% compared to 8-9% in middle income countries. Private hospitals are money-making industries with no commitment towards lowering rates of disease or death. One person I know spent ₹18 lakh for his Covid treatment in a five-star hospital in Chennai. We have just had elections in five states: health infrastructure and care never made it to the political discourse. Meanwhile, hospitals had only a few hours of oxygen available, while antiviral drugs and ventilators have been hard to find. What a wonderful opportunity for the black marketeer! An MLA was indicted for hoarding several oxygen cylinders. I wonder how many he sold. If politicians—the rajas—do this, what do you expect from the praja or people?

It is time the Central and state governments woke up to the evils of the black market. All politicians know who the black marketeers are, where they are situated and where they hoard—after all, most contribute liberally to every political party. They must be tried and convicted in public fora if we are to have a cleaner and greener society. The prices of medical supplies and food must come down and black marketeers caught and imprisoned, with stricter laws than the weak punishment mentioned above.

And finally, the award for the Ugly goes—as always—to China. A social media post by China's top law enforcement body, the Communist Party's Central Political and Legal Affairs Commission, on its official Sina Weibo account, compared the Tianhe module launch and its fuel burn-off to pictures of mass outdoor cremations in India, and captioned them as "China lighting a fire versus India lighting a fire." Ironically, the Chinese rocket lost its way and ended up as debris in the Indian Ocean, earning the world's ire. So much for the Chinese fire. The world media's role was also shocking, broadcasting images of burning bodies. Is nothing sacred anymore?

Mindset change needed

This is with reference to Putting an end to dowry menace in Kerala society (June 25). Mere laws are not enough for dowry to disappear. There needs to be a radical change in the mindset of every Indian and we need to realise that women are not commodities.

Parthasarathy Mandadi, Tirupati

Prevalent despite ban

The demon of dowry has raised its ugly head again in Kerala. Despite the ban, this practice is still prevalent in society in the guise of gifts and will. Most of the dowry-related cases are settled by the families before they take an ugly turn. Hence, authorities have some limitations in intervening.

Shaj Koodathil, Mahe

Restoring statehood

This is with reference to Naya Kashmir doesn't mean compromising India's integrity (June 25). Restoring state status to J&K should be done without ignoring the genuine interests of the country. There should be no compromise on security and secularism.

Thomas K M, Muvattupuzha

Centre-states collusion

The Centre tries its best to extract maximum revenue from states, while the latter also fight for their pound of flesh. However, they collude when it comes to levying taxes on the common man. Both don't make any noise or take action even when petrol and diesel prices are going beyond our reach. This collusion must not be ignored by voters.

Serum starts production of Covovax, signs promising

With efficacy of 90% in Phase III trials, vaccine to be tested on children next month & expected to be available in India from September

Beneficiaries line up to receive Covid-19 vaccine doses in Jaipur on Friday | PTI

SUMI SUKANYA DUTTA @ New Delhi

THE Pune-based Serum Institute of India has started production of Covovax, its own version of the US-based Novavax's Covid-19 vaccine, which has shown an efficacy of over 90% in its recently concluded Phase III trials.

In India, this vaccine — 20 crore doses projected to be available from August-December — is undergoing a bridging trial and is set to be tested on kids from next month.

"A milestone has been reached. This week we began our first batch of Covovax at our facility, here in Pune," said SII in a tweet on Friday. Its CEO Adar Poonawalla had earlier said a ban on raw materials required for the vaccines by the US was set to impact the vaccine manufacturing. The Joe Biden administration subsequently lifted the ban.

Meanwhile, as part of the Phase II and III, observer-blind, randomized, controlled bridging study on 1,600 adults across 20 sites including AIIMS, Delhi and Gorakhpur, studies are underway to determine the safety and immunogenicity of this protein-based vaccine in Indian population.

Earlier this month, Novavax said the vaccine has an efficacy of 90.4% in preventing infection and 100% efficacy against moderate to severe disease while announcing results from its late-stage trials. The company had said in a statement its recombinant nanoparticle protein-based vaccine was tested in nearly 30,000 volunteers between January-April in the US and Mexico and significantly, also included nearly 44% non-white participants.

The two doses of the vaccine are administered 21 days apart and its efficacy results have since been compared to the vaccines by Pfizer and Moderna, as Phase III trials of this vaccine conducted later meant that it was pitted against more aggressive variants of the Covid virus.

Following the declaration of Phase III trials, authorities in Indian government had said that the vaccine data in a large trial are "promising", adding that bridging trials in the country are also in an advanced stage of completion.

"What we're learning from data available in public domain is that this vaccine is very safe and highly effective. It'll be produced in India," VK Paul, member, health, Niti Aayog and chairman of the national Covid-19 task force, had said.

Company sources told this daily it is looking at a September timeline to launch the vaccine in India. "Also, since a need has been felt to prepare vaccines for kids in case of major outbreaks, we are keen to study whether the vaccine is safe and effective for the children," a senior executive said.

Dark days of Emergency can never be forgotten: PM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

ON the occasion of the anniversary of Emergency, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Friday said the "dark days of can never be forgotten". He stated that democratic institutions were trampled during those 21 months.

The Prime Minister shared a postcard which showed what all were banned during Emergency. The postcard showed that the quotes of Mahatma Gandhi, songs of Kishore Kumar, films on revolutionary freedom fighter Chandrashekhar Azad and quotations of Nobel laureate Rabindranath Tagore were banned during the period

"The dark days of Emergency can never be forgotten. The period from 1975 to 1977 witnessed a systematic destruction of institutions. Let us pledge to do everything possible to strengthen India's democratic spirit, and live up to the values enshrined in our Constitution," the Prime Minister tweeted.

In another tweet, he said: "This is how Congress trampled over our democratic ethos. We remember all those greats who resisted the Emergency and protected Indian democracy". The link to the postcard had six snapshots, each showing the excesses committed during the period of Emergency.

"The Emergency by Indira Gandhi was an unbelievable phase in India's democracy," read out the postcard, showing six snaps with taglines "can you believe". The postcard signed off with assertion, "let us pledge that those who did this never have the power to do this again".

Info on vax efficacy against Delta + soon

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

TOP government authorities on Friday announced that within 7-10 days, results of experiments carried out to assess the efficacy of existing Covid-19 vaccines against the Delta Plus variant will be out.

The announcement comes amid concerns that this variant, now detected in nearly 50 samples in 11 states and UTs—Maharashtra, Madhya Pradesh, Punjab, Gujarat, Kerala, Andhra Pradesh, Tamil Nadu, Odisha, Rajasthan, J&K, Karnataka — may have immune evasive properties and cause more severe disease.

In a first-ever study in the world, declared ICMR director general Balram Bhargava, India will come up with its finding on how effective the vaccines are against Delta Plus reported in 12 countries thus far. Such data is available nowhere, said Bhargava.

In a press briefing on Covid-19 status in the country, officials said Covaxin and Covishield are effective against variants of concern, such as alpha, delta and gamma.

Existing vaccines have reduced effectiveness against the Delta variant, which is now dominant in India and is seen in nearly 90% of samples.

While Covishield has shown a 2 fold reduction in neutralising antibodies, it is down by 3 fold in case of Covaxin, Bhargava said, assuring that vaccines can be modified structurally to work better.

Department of biotechnology secretary Renu Swarup underscored that Delta Plus cases in India are so far localised in some districts and hves largely been seen in isolated cases.

S K Singh, director, National Centre for Disease Control, said forming a scientific opinion on a variant takes time and clarified that the "plus" in the name of a variant does not denote more virulence.

Meanwhile, in a letter to states where Delta Plus variant has been identified, Bhushan reinforced the need for containment measures like preventing crowds, testing, tracing as well as vaccine coverage on a priority basis.

Third wave unlikely to be as severe, suggests study

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

MUTATIONS in coronavirus, waning population immunity, or unrestricted mixing of people could drive a third Covid-19 wave in India, but it is unlikely to be as severe as the second, a new study by ICMR has said.

The scientific paper, jointly prepared by ICMR and Imperial College, London, indicates that while timing and pattern of the third wave will depend on such factors, the size of the surge could remain either midway between the first two waves or be smaller than the first.

ICMR director general Balram Bhargava and its chief scientist Samiran Panda are co-authors of the study. The paper published in ICMR's Indian Journal of Medical Research said immune-mediated mechanisms — waning immunity or viral evolution for immune escape — are unlikely to drive a severe third wave if acting on their own, unless such mechanisms lead to a complete loss of protection among those previously exposed.

Likewise, a new, more transmissible variant would have to exceed a high threshold of reproductive factor — rate at which an infected individual infects others — should be higher than 4.5 to cause a third wave on its own. However, plausible mechanisms for a third wave include a new variant that is more transmissible and at the same time capable of escaping prior immunity, and lockdowns that are highly effective in limiting transmission and subsequently released. In both cases, any third wave is unlikely to be as severe as the second wave, noted the researchers.

Oxygen task force advocates 'strategic reserves'

KANU SARDA @ New Delhi

PROPOSING an equitable formula for managing oxygen supply, the Supreme Court-constituted National Task Force (NTF) stressed that authorities must maintain strategic reserves for 2-3 weeks, like it is done for fuel by petrol stations, to manage the surge in Covid-19 cases in future.

NTF said a 100-bed hospital should be allocated about 1.5 metric tonnes of liquid medical oxygen every day.

Meanwhile, a committee constituted to see oxygen supply stated that Delhi needed about 300 MT at that time, but the Delhi government raised the demand to 1200 MT. The oxygen audit report further said due to Delhi's excessive demand, 12 other states had to face a shortage as supply was diverted to Delhi.

The task force suggested measures to be taken to prevent a repeat of the crisis.

The 12-member NTA lauded the Central government's efforts, saying it took proactive steps last year to control the spread of the pandemic.

The task force suggested oxygen monitoring committees be set up in every hospital. Further, monitoring teams should be available to ensure proper assessment of need as per hospital protocol.

The NTF was constituted to devise a formula oxygen allocation, after Delhi disputed the Centre's methods. "The formula needs to be developed for the calculation of oxygen requirement for the primary, secondary, and tertiary-level hospitals based on the number of Oxygen beds and ICU beds," it said. For a 100-bed hospital with 25% ICU beds, the report stated that its daily requirement should be 1.5 MT.

Maharashtra not to ease restrictions immediately

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

THE Maharashtra government issued fresh guidelines on Friday, warning local authorities not to ease restrictions immediately, following fears of a possible third wave and the spread of the Delta Plus variant.

State chief secretary Sitaram Kunte, while issuing new guidelines, said the threat of the pandemic persists as deadlier variants are being reported. The state has so far reported 21 Delta Plus cases — nine in Ratnagiri and the rest from Jalgaon, Palghar and other districts.

"We need to impose stringent restrictions to curb the spread," he said, adding that given the mutations in the virus and its ongoing evolution, it is likely that more serious situations will arise in the near future.

The order said that while easing restrictions, weekly positivity index and percentage of oxygen-powered beds should be considered. "Weekly positivity rate should be determined on the basis of RT-PCR tests only," read the order.

Local administrations have been told to accelerate vaccination through public awareness activities. "Every effort should be made to complete the vaccination of at least 70 per cent of the eligible people as soon as possible. Besides, test-track-treat method should be adopted as much as possible to prevent the spread of Covid".

2 shots must for 45+ Raj lawyers

Jaipur: A Rajasthan High Court circular has made things difficult for advocates over 45. It says only those who have their second dose of the vaccine 14 days ago can physically appear in the court. The order will lead to more than 80% of advocates not being able to physically appear in the courts in Rajasthan. Jaipur Bar Association has said the decision is impractical and that they oppose it. High court and subordinate courts are going to reopen on June 28.

No vax? Test every 10 days

Guwahati: A district administration in Meghalaya has made it mandatory for employees and staff of shops, establishments and drivers of passenger vehicles, who choose not to get vaccinated, to get themselves tested once every 10 days as a social responsibility. "Employees and staff of shops and drivers, conductors and helpers of taxis, autos and buses who choose not to get vaccinated should get themselves tested once in 10 days," said East Khasi Hills Deputy Commissioner's order.

Corona fear leads to killing of egrets

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ New Delhi

A civic body in Assam is in the eye of a storm for killing egrets on the unfounded belief that the birds spread Covid-19.

The Tangla Municipal Board in Udalguri district of northern Assam was of the opinion that bamboo groves are a source of the virus due to bird droppings. The body issued a notice to five residents of the town to fell the bamboo groves. "This is to inform you that the droppings of the egrets, nesting at your bamboo groves, created an unhygienic ambiance which could spread coronavirus. Therefore, you are informed to fell them to create a hygienic atmosphere," the notice issued on June 8 read.

When the families ignored it, a team of the civic body, armed with axes, raided the house of one of them, Lokjit Sutar, on Thursday and cut off the trees, killing scores of chicks nesting in the safety of their homes. As per initial estimates, over 300 fledglings and nestlings died.

Sutar's family members was not at home when the civic body team raided their place. Chicks which survived, with or without injuries, were transported to the Centre for Wildlife Rehabilitation and Conservation near Kaziranga National Park with help of locals, veterinary doctors and others.

CM Himanta Biswa Sarma has directed Forest Minister Parimal Suklabaidya to probe the incident. An FIR was filed by a college lecturer. The act of the civic body riled wildlife activists. "The civic body should have realised the bamboo grove was home to the egret chicks," said Soumyadeep Datta of Nature's Beckon.

Release of more political detainees on cards

L-G to form panel which will go through list of 40 people who are in custody under PSA, a step to win confidence

SANA SHAKIL @ New Delhi

PM Narendra Modi during the all-party meeting in Delhi on Thursday | PTI

THE first steps towards removing "Dil ki doori aur Dilli ki doori" as PM Narendra Modi put it in his meeting with 14 leaders from J&K were taken well before their meeting on Thursday. A few political leaders in detention were released days before the high-profile meeting was held in the capital and sources in MHA say that a committee will be formed by J&K L-G Manoj Sinha, who will go through the list of remaining detainees on a case-to-case basis. Release of more political detainees could be seen soon.

"The L-G will constitute a committee which will go through a list of 40 people who are in custody under the PSA. Most of them belong to political parties. Based on various factors and depending on the feedback from security agencies their release will be looked into," a source in the MHA told this newspaper. "Cases of those who were not charged with offences of violence will be reviewed," the sources added.

BJP leader and former J&K deputy CM Nirmal Singh, who attended the meeting, said: "In the meeting, the home minister shared data of detainees under PSA who are still in custody. He said there are 40 people who are detained under the PSA, and he said their cases will be reviewed by a committee."

Release of political prisoners was one of the key demands made by various leaders, including Congress's Ghulam Nabi Azad, in the meeting with the PM and Home Minister Amit Shah.

In fact, in the run up to the meeting held on Thursday, several political detainees such as PDP's Naeem Akhtar and Sartaj Madni were released last week. Akhtar was first detained in August 2019 and booked again under the PSA. After being released in June 2020 he was again taken into custody in December last year. Madni, the uncle of former CM Mehbooba Mufti, was released after six months of detention on Saturday and a day later Akhtar was also released. Experts have welcomed these developments.

"In 2004 after the Hurriyat held two rounds of talks with the then deputy PM LK Advani, Advani ji asked them what it is that they want. They asked for the release of political prisoners. I think they gave a list of some 35 people of which the government ordered the release of around 12," said AS Dulat, the former R&AW chief.

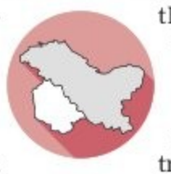
Skandan Krishnan, a former IAS officer who served as an advisor to former J&K governor Satyapal Malik said "such a move will give the biggest fillip to the local parties."

In the meeting, Amit Shah shared data of detainees under PSA who are still in custody. He said their cases will be reviewed by a committee —NIRMAL SINGH, BJP leader

Kashmir wants restoration of statehood, says Pakistan

NEW DELHI: Reacting to Prime Minister Narendra Modi holding a meeting of all political parties of Jammu and Kashmir, Pakistan Foreign Minister Shah Mahmood Qureshi on Friday said Kashmiris wanted restoration of statehood.

Terming Modi's claim of fulfilling the statehood demand as vague and against the wishes of Kashmiris, Qureshi said, "This (holding the meeting) was a failed attempt on part of the Indian Prime Minister to mend the tarnished image of his government following the illegal acts of revocation of special status of J&K.



The meeting almost lasted three hours. This was the first such meeting held after August 5, 2019 when the Centre had revoked Article 370 and ended the special status granted to Jammu and Kashmir while bifurcating it into two union territories.

"India has exercised all tools of State oppression to curb the determination of Kashmiris, however it has failed to subjugate them," the Pakistan foreign minister said and added that the decision had resulted in the closure of almost 50 per cent of the industries in the Valley.

"Since the step (revoking Article 370) would have far-reaching implications, Pakistan has highlighted the matter at highest fora including UNGA, UNSC, at the levels of PM and foreign minister at various bilateral talks and at the Geneva Council of Human Rights. ENS

Pak to remain on FATF grey list, told to target terrorists

NEW DELHI: The Financial Action Task Force (FATF) on Friday decided to keep Pakistan on its grey list saying Islamabad is yet to implement its action plan. The decision was taken during the Paris-based terror watchdog's week-long plenary. Confirming the development, FATF president Marcus Pleyer said Pakistan needs to act on UN-listed terrorists.

"Pakistan remains under increasing monitoring. It has largely addressed 26 out of 27 items on the action plan. However, one key action items still need to be completed which concerns the investigation and prosecution of senior leaders and commanders of UN-designated terror groups," the FATF president said.

Pleyer also said Pakistan is still failing to effectively implement the global FATF standards across several areas which means the risk of money laundering remain high which in turn can fuel corruption and organised crime.

Following the decision, Islamabad now has until October to implement the FATF action plan. The next FATF plenary would be held from October 17-22. Pakistan was placed in the terror finance watchdog's grey list in June 2018. A country is placed on the grey list because the watchdog feels that money in that country is being used to fund terror activities. Being on the grey list can affect foreign investments. Pakistan claims that the country has lost $10 billion annually since being placed on the grey list. Pakistan is believed to be hosting one of the largest numbers of UN-listed international terrorists.

The FATF will undertake an on-site visit to ascertain that Islamabad is doing its bit to curb terror financing and implementing the watchdog's action plan. As part of their efforts to implement the action plan, Pakistan has passed legislations like the Counter-Terror Financing Act and the Anti-Money Laundering Act. ENS

India & China to continue talks for disengagement

NEW DELHI: India and China on Friday agreed to continue communication through various channels to reach a mutually acceptable solution for complete disengagement along the LAC.

The decision was taken at the 22nd meeting of the Working Mechanism for Consultation & Coordination on India-China Border Affairs (WMCC). The Indian delegation was led by additional secretary (East Asia) Naveen Srivastava, while the Chinese side was led by the DG of the Boundary and Oceanic Department of the Chinese Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

"The two sides agreed to maintain dialogue and communication through the diplomatic and military mechanisms to reach a mutually acceptable solution for complete disengagement from all friction points so as to ensure full restoration of peace and tranquillity to enable progress in the relations. They also agreed that in the interim, the two sides will continue to ensure stability on the ground and prevent any untoward incident," the MEA said. ENS

ED RAIDS DESHMUKH'S HOUSES IN NAGPUR, MUMBAI

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mumbai

Cops guard the residence of Anil Deshmukh in Nagpur on Friday | PTI

THE Enforcement Directorate (ED) on Friday conducted searches at the premises of former Maharashtra home minister Anil Deshmukh and his associates in Nagpur and Mumbai as part of a money laundering probe against the politician on ₹100 crore bribery charges.

The raids were being carried out under provisions of the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA) and the locations include Deshmukh's residence at GPO Chowk in Nagpur and that of his personal secretary Sanjeev Palande and personal assistant Kundan Shinde in Mumbai. Deshmukh was at his residence in Worli area that was also covered in the search. Investigators brought Palande to the ED office in Mumbai for questioning around noon.

On Wednesday, the agency had questioned dismissed Mumbai Police officer Sachin Waze at the Taloja jail in Navi Mumbai where he is lodged in a NIA case and recorded his statement. The agency had registered a criminal case under the anti-money laundering law against Deshmukh and others last month after studying a CBI FIR.

The ED case came about after the CBI first carried out a preliminary enquiry followed by filing a regular case on the orders of the Bombay High Court that asked it to look into the allegations of bribery made against Deshmukh by former Mumbai Police chief Param Bir Singh. Officials said the search teams were looking for additional evidence that can be important for their probe.

The teams were trying to gather evidence and record statements to substantiate the claims made by about 10 bar owners to the ED that they paid about ₹4 crore "bribe" that was allegedly handed over to Deshmukh.

Expand Cong base without hurting Maha govt, Nana Patole told in Delhi

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

AMID Congress's worsening ties with the Shiv Sena, the party's Maharashtra unit chief Nana Patole was asked by the central leadership on Friday to refrain from making controversial statements that could land the Maha Vikas Aghadi government in trouble, especially at a time when there's a strong buzz of the Sena turning soft towards the BJP.

Patole, who was on a tour of north Maharashtra to expand the party base, was abruptly summoned to the national capital on Friday. Some of his recent statements have not gone down well with the MVA allies and sparking concerns even within the party. He had announced that the Congress would be going solo in future elections, prompting Sena chief Uddhav Thackeray to lash out at the party.

"The party leadership has asked Patole to expand the party base without hurting the incumbent government. The Congress wants the MVA to last its full five-year term. It does not want to lost a resourceful state like Maharashtra at this juncture when the party is struggling to float. It is in power in Punjab, Rajasthan and Chhattisgarh, but these states cannot be compared with Maharashtra," said a highly placed source. Meanwhile, senior Congress leaders in the state are also unhappy with Maharashtra in-charge HK Patil for interfering in district-level appointments for party posts.

"If he wants to do anything, he should convey a message through the state president or another senior state functionary. Patil recently sent a voice mail to all district units asking them to submit three names each for district president. It's not his call to appoint Congress district presidents; it is the right of the Maharashtra Pradesh Congress Committee. Patil is overstepping his brief," said a source. Several complaint letters have gone to Congress president Sonia Gandhi seeking Patil's replacement, the source added.

'Intruders' log in for BJP's virtual meet, probe on

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

FUNCTIONARIES of the BJP's West Bengal chapter were taken by surprise with the presence of "intruders" during the party's internal virtual meeting on Thursday evening. Acting upon the instruction from the party's central leadership, BJP Bengal unit organised the meeting to discuss the strategy of showcasing BJP-led central government's projects and schemes for people.

During the meeting, the party's IT cell, which provided technical support for the meeting involving state-level functionaries and all district presidents and general secretaries, spotted two suspicious usernames — Mamata Banerjee and Joy Bangla — among the participants.

As soon as members of the IT cell started inquiring, several anti-BJP contents started pouring in the comment box. Sources in the BJP said someone among the participants must have shared the link of the meeting. "We are now searching the traitor(s) to avert re-run of similar incident of spying," said a BJP leader.

The meeting was chaired by BJP state president Dilip Ghosh, vice-president Jayprakash Majumdar and other state functionaries along with district leaders. "The high-command had instructed us to give our functionaries a guideline for showcasing and campaigning all the positive measured that the BJP-led Centre initiated during the party's last seven-year tenure in the central government. It was completely an internal meeting," said another BJP leader.

Insiders in the party said the event started smoothly and the leaders were discussing about the strategy.

"Some of our experts from the IT cell were also among the participants. Suddenly, the IT cell spotted two suspicious usernames. One is namesake of chief minister Mamata Banerjee and other used her pre-election slogan Jay Bangla. The IT cell immediately removed them," said the leader.

BJP's general secretary in Bengal Sayantan Basu said the matter is being investigated.

We discuss many secret plans in virtual meets. It's clear that someone from us leaked the link. We fear that the enemy camps will come across all contents of the meeting —A BJP leader

BJP drops rape convict MLA's kin as candidate

LUCKNOW: Ten months after he was convicted for raping a teenager and sentenced to life in prison and subsequently losing his state assembly membership, Kuldeep Sengar's shadow is still haunting the ruling BJP in Uttar Pradesh. With the 2017 Unnao rape survivor voicing concern over the BJP reposing its faith in the former MLA's kin for winning panchayat polls in Unnao district, the party has been compelled to roll back its decision twice in three months.

In April, the BJP named Sengar's wife Sangita as its supported candidate from one of the wards in district panchayat elections in Unnao. As the decision caused uproar and drew protests from the rape survivor, the party had to replace her. But two months later, it was again caught on the wrong foot on Thursday when it named the former MLA's close aide and distant relative Arun Singh as BJP candidate for next month's district panchayat chairperson polls in Unnao. A few hours later, the rape survivor appealed against the decision to President Ram Nath Kovind, PM Narendra Modi and CM Yogi Adityanath. She pointed out that Singh was one of the accused in the case registered in connection with the accident involving her car in July 2019, which killed her two aunts and inflicted serious injuries to her and her advocate. Realising that the decision had rendered opportunity to its political opponents to target the party eight months before the assembly polls, the BJP changed its candidate despite Singh's protests that he was given clean chit by the CBI. ENS

16 senior Maoist leaders died of Covid in 2 months

Confirmation by the banned CPI (Maoist) of the death of two senior leaders due to the coronavirus infection, has corroborated the assertion of Bastar Police that the pandemic claimed the lives of over 16 senior rebels in the last two months. Bastar Range IG Sunderraj P has appealed to the Maoist cadres to shun violence, surrender, avail medical facilities and seek treatment for Covid-19 ailment. The pandemic situation in Maoist camps remains alarming. The Red ultras should accept the reality, the IG added. Most of the Maoist leaders and cadres have reportedly died in the proximity of the Minaguram-Jabagatta forest in the south Bijapur-Sukma region. Maoist leaders like Hidma, Vinod, Sonu, Jaiman, Nandu among others are reported to be down with the infection.

Support for 1.5 lakh amid second wave

Bharat Aluminium Company (BALCO) has extended medical, awareness and livelihood support to over 1.5 lakh community members through various initiatives in the industrial town of Korba. The organisation has designed and implemented campaigns across villages on various do's and don'ts and supported the administration with medicines, sanitisation drive and PPE kits. During the challenging time, it has set up a 100-bed hospital at Naya Raipur and generated livelihood opportunities through Vedanta skill school and project 'Unnati'.

500 schools closed due to pandemic impact

Private schools in Chhattisgarh are the worst hit by the pandemic impact. As many as 500 schools have already been shut down in the state and many others are on the brink of closure as they are unable to sustain the expenses. The biggest concern is the fate of one lakh students who were admitted in these schools from Class 1 to 8 under the Right to Education (RTE). According to Rajiv Gupta, president of the Private School Association, there are around 500 private schools that were shut down owing to financial constraints and lack of enough admissions.

Five dead, hundreds injured by rare tornado in Czech Republic

PRAGUE

A RARE tornado believed to be the most devastating twister in the Czech Republic's modern history has torn through country's southeast, killing at least five people and injured hundreds, rescue services and police said on Friday.

The tornado touched down late Thursday as strong thunderstorms hit the entire country. Seven towns and villages sustained heavy damage that included buildings turned to rubble and overturned cars. The storms were accompanied by hail which in some cases was as big as tennis balls.

Over 40,000 households remain without electricity in the southeastern region of the country. Some 360 extra police officers were dispatched to the area, along with army troops. Rescue crews from across the country were joined by counterparts from nearby Austria and Slovakia. They were using drones, helicopters and sniffer dogs to search through the rubble. Police said at least five people were found dead, but regional government chief Jan Grolich said he would expect the death toll to rise.

"It's a huge tragedy," Prime Minister Andrej Babis said. Babis was in Brussels to attend an EU summit and was planning to visit the damage-hit region on Friday. He said he has asked the EU for help.

"I'd like to offer my condolences to the families of the victims," Babis said. "We as the government will do all we can to help the people because it's a real apocalypse." He said some 2,000 buildings have been damaged. Hrusky Deputy Mayor Marek Babisz told Czech public radio that half of his town was almost completely wiped out.

"The church is without the tower, the elementary school has no roof and insulation any more, only walls remained from what were houses...It's really terrible." Meteorologist Martin Setvak said it was the most damaging tornado in the country's modern history. He said it's still unclear whether it was a single twister or several independent ones.

Setvak said the country experienced anywhere between one and seven tornadoes annually up until 2020, but all were relatively weak. AP

Idea of overturning poll results is un-American, says Mike Pence

Says he is proud of certifying 2020 election outcome, which saw Joe Biden taking charge

SIMI VALLEY (US)

FORMER Vice President Mike Pence on Thursday defended his role in certifying the results of the 2020 election, saying he was 'proud' of what he did on January 6 and declaring that there is 'almost no idea more un-American than the notion that any one person could choose the American president.' Pence, a potential 2024 presidential contender, delivered his strongest rebuttal to date of former President Donald Trump's continued insistence that he could unilaterally overturn the results of the last election, even though the Constitution granted him no such power.

A mob of Trump supporters stormed the US Capitol on January 6 in a bid to halt the certification process and transition of power, with some chanting, 'Hang Mike Pence!'

Former US Vice-President Mike Pence with ex-President Donald Trump

Pence, in remarks at the Ronald Reagan Presidential Library, directly addressed those who continue to blame him for Trump's defeat to now-President Joe Biden.

"Now there are those in our party who believe that, in my position as presiding officer over the joint session, that I possessed the authority to reject or return electoral votes certified by the states. But the Constitution provides the vice president with no such authority," he said.

"And the truth is, there's almost no idea more un-American than the notion that any one person could choose the American president. The presidency belongs to the American people and the American people alone," he said.

Pence said he will 'always be proud that we did our part, on that tragic day, to reconvene the Congress and fulfill our duty under the Constitution and the laws of the US.'

It was Pence's most overt attempt to date to distance himself from Trump's rhetoric about the election while painting himself as an heir to Trump's mantle and key to his accomplishments in office. Trump has continued to insist that he won the November election, even though his administration's own election experts, his attorney general, state election officials and numerous judges, including some he appointed, have repeatedly and forcefully rejected his allegations of mass voter fraud.

Pence, speaking as part of a series organized by the Ronald Reagan Presidential Foundation and Institute, repeatedly praised Trump and compared him to Reagan, whom Pence has long hailed as a hero.

But he also argued that the American public needs to trust that Republicans will 'always keep our oath to the Constitution, even when it could be politically expedient to do otherwise.' AP

EU okays funding plan for refugees in Turkey

BRUSSELS

EUROPEAN Union leaders greenlighted plans on Friday to give Turkey another 3 billion euros ($3.6 billion) over the next few years to provide fresh assistance to Syrian refugees on its territory and to help the country boost border controls.

"It's about additional funds of 3 billion euros, then afterwards also funds for Lebanon and Jordan," German Chancellor Angela Merkel told reporters. She said the plan, drawn up by the EU's executive branch, 'will soon be formally endorsed.' Turkey reacted coolly, saying it's a way for Europeans 'to ensure the EU's own peace and security.'

Well over 1 million migrants entered the EU in 2015, many of them fleeing conflict in Syria and Iraq. The arrivals through Turkey overwhelmed facilities in the Greek islands, and sparked one of the EU's biggest-ever political crises.

To persuade Turkey to stop people leaving its territory, the 27-nation bloc offered the country 6 billion euros for Syrian refugees and the prospect of fast-track EU membership talks and visa-free travel in Europe for its citizens. Arrivals quickly dropped to a relative trickle, and the EU is keen to update the arrangement.

Membership talks are at a standstill, and Turkey has still not fulfilled several criteria to secure visa-free travel, but the European Commission has handed over most of the funds and will pay the rest as contracts are completed. Separately, it is providing a further half a billion euros for refugees there this year.

Turkey is estimated to now host around 3.7 million refugees from the conflict in Syria. Lebanon and Jordan are also sheltering hundreds of thousands each. But Turkey is also a source of concern for EU, particularly disputed energy exploration work in east Mediterranean that had heightened tensions with EU member states Greece and Cyprus. In a working paper prepared for the summit, the commission proposed a further 3 billion euros from the EU budget shall be dedicated until 2024 to support actions in Turkey.

It said 'in programming the actions under this package will gradually move from humanitarian priorities to socio-economic support and development.' AP

China launches fully-electrified bullet train close to Indian border

BEIJING

CHINA on Friday operationalised its first fully electrified bullet train in the remote Himalayan region of Tibet, connecting the provincial capital Lhasa and Nyingchi, a strategically located Tibetan border town close to Arunachal Pradesh.

The 435.5-km Lhasa-Nyingchi section of the Sichuan-Tibet Railway has been inaugurated ahead of the centenary celebrations of the ruling Communist Party of China on July 1. The first electrified railway in Tibet Autonomous Region opened on Friday morning, linking Lhasa with Nyingchi as "Fuxing" bullet trains enter official operation on the plateau region.

It has a designed speed of 160 km/ hour and operates on a single-line electrified railway. It stops at nine stations, including Lhasa and Nyingchi and can handle passenger and freight transportation, the report said.

Compared to roads, the Lhasa-Nyingchi railway reduces travel time from Lhasa to Nyingchi from 5 hours to approximately 3.5 hours, and cuts the travel time from Shannan to Nyingchi from 6 hours to approximately 2 hours, it said. The line passes through 47 tunnels and 121 bridges and crosses the Brahmaputra river locally called Yarlung Zangbo 16 times. Tunnels and bridges account for approximately 75% of the total length of the railway track. PTI

Fake reviews: UK watchdog probes Amazon, Google

LONDON

UK regulators said on Friday that they're investigating Google and Amazon over concerns the online giants aren't doing enough to stop fake reviews of products and services on their platforms.

The Competition and Markets Authority said it opened a formal investigation into whether the two companies broke UK consumer law by failing to protect shoppers. The watchdog started looking into fake reviews on some big websites last year — without identifying any specific ones — amid the pandemic-fuelled boom in online shopping.

Google and Amazon said they will work with UK regulators in their investigation. AP

Toll in Florida building collapse rises to four

SURFSIDE (US)

ABOUT 160 people were still unaccounted for Friday, a day after an oceanside condominium building collapsed. Searchers combing through a twisted, shifting pile of concrete and metal feared the death toll of at least four could go much higher.

With scores of firefighters working overnight to reach any survivors, hopes rested on how quickly crews using dogs and microphones to sift through the wreckage could complete their grim task. "Every time we hear a sound, we concentrate on those areas," said Assistant Miami-Dade Fire Chief Raide Jadallah.

Three more bodies were removed overnight, and Miami-Dade Police Director Freddy Ramirez said authorities were working with the medical examiner's office to identify the victims. Eleven injuries were reported, with four people treated at hospitals.

Miami-Dade Mayor Daniella Levine Cava said rescuers were at 'extreme risk' going through the rubble.

With searchers using saws and jackhammers to look for pockets large enough to hold a person, Levine said there was still hope of finding people alive. The missing at what was left of the 12-story Champlain Towers South included people from around the world: A beloved retired Miami-area teacher and his wife. Orthodox Jews from Russia. Israelis. The sister of Paraguay's first lady. Others from South America.

State Sen. Jason Pizzo of Miami Beach told the Miami Herald he watched as tactical teams of six worked early Friday to sift through the debris. He said he saw one body taken in a yellow body bag and another that was marked. AP

Debris is falling on the rescuers as they do their work. We have structural engineers on site to ensure that they are not injured, but they are proceeding..They are taking extraordinary risk on the site every day

Unicorn PharmEasy to acquire Thyrocare

After the open offer, Pharmeasy will end up with a consolidated stake of 92% for a total consideration of ₹6,334 crore

BISMAH MALIK @ Bengaluru

INDIA'S biggest digital healthcare deal was struck over a Masala chai chat between 32-year-old Siddharth Shah, co-founder and CEO of API Holdings (parent company of PharmEasy), and 62-year-old diagnostic services veteran Dr Arokiaswamy Velumani in monsoon-drenched Lonavala, a Mumbai suburb. The rare deal will see the six-year-old unicorn PharmEasy acquire a 66.1 per cent stake in the 26 year-old public listed diagnostic firm Thyrocare—for ₹4,546 crore ($600 million).

"We will provide world class customer experience in diagnostics, rivalling our pharmacy experience by leveraging technology, and building on top of the massive scale & truly pan-India presence of Thyrocare. It is our aim to deliver all outpatient healthcare products & services to every Indian within 24 hour," said Shah in a statement on Friday..

PharmEasy has also announced an open offer for the acquisition of 26 per cent of voting share capital, for a total consideration of ₹1,788 crore from public shareholders. Upon the approval of the transaction, as well as open offer subscription, Pharmeasy will have a consolidated stake of 92 per ecnt in Thyrocare for ₹6,334 crore. This includes a 38.04 per cent stake held by Thyrocare founder Velumani and family. Dr Velumani will also invest ₹1,500 crore in Pharmeasy (in one or more tranches) in an upcoming funding round to acquire 5 per cent in the start-up, which is estimated to be valued at over ₹30,000 crore (over $4 billion)—a 4-fold jump in valuation for India's largest digital healthcare firm since April this year, when it had raised $350 million in a Series E round led by Prosus Ventures and US private equity firm TPG Growth.

> From ordering medicines online to tele consultations and now diagnosis... there is a shift not only in consumer preferences but also the business approach by doctors, hospitals, pharmacies and clinic
>
> Dr Arokiaswamy Velumani, CMD, Thyrocare Technologies

PharmEasy had later announced a merger with Medlife to propel growth beyond the online B2B and B2C pharmacy segment. US-based PE firm B Capital Group, Singapore headquartered Temasek Holdings Eight Road Ventures (UK), and Medlife promoters (Prashant Singh and Tushar Kumar) have major holdings in PharmEasy. Sources say that Tiger Global will likely lead the next Series F investment round in the health tech start-up

"From ordering medicines online to tele consultations and now diagnosis. services, amidst the pandemic there is a shift not only in consumer preferences but also the business approach and modus operandi by doctors, hospitals, pharmacies and clinics across the country," Dr. Velumani said.

MAY MANUFACTURING AT 10-YEAR HIGH

Singapore's industrial output beat forecasts to rise 30% in May over last year. This is the fastest pace recorded in about 10 years, buoyed by a low base effect due to the city-state's coronavirus lockdown measures last year, official data from the Singapore Economic Development Board showed. On a month-on-month and seasonally adjusted basis, industrial production increased 7.2% in May. Excluding the volatile biomedical manufacturing segment, production grew 9.8%. Manufacturing contributes to over one-fifth of Singapore's GDP. Expansion was seen across all clusters, with precision engineering the top performer with a 58.6% surge from a year ago. This was supported by a 73.4% jump in the machinery and systems segment, which benefited from the strong capital investment in the global chip industry.

SHAREHOLDERS OUST TOSHIBA BOARD CHAIRMAN

Toshiba Corp shareholders voted out its board chairman and one other director on Friday, delivering a seismic rebuke to the company after it was found to have colluded with the government in suppressing foreign investor interests. CEO Satoshi Tsunakawa said shareholders had voted down a bid to reappoint Nagayama and a member of the firm's audit committee. The move came despite Tsunakawa offering his backing for the chairman of the board, and pledging to work on reestablishing trust after the damaging revelations of an independent probe. The probe was launched after shareholders alleging vote irregularities pushed Toshiba to hold an extraordinary off-schedule general meeting in March. Earlier this month, the inquiry found that the troubled industrial conglomerate 'devised a plan to effectively prevent shareholders from exercising their shareholder proposal right and voting rights' at a meeting in July, 2020.

BITCOIN BAN FORCES SOME MINERS TO FLEE OVERSEAS

China's sweeping ban on cryptocurrency mining has paralysed an industry that accounts for over half of global bitcoin production, as miners dump machines in despair or seek refuge in places such as Texas or Kazakhstan. China's ban on Bitcoin mining may see up to 90% of all mining in the country go offline, according to one estimate by Adam James, a senior editor at OKEx Insights. Prices of mining rigs have slumped on the mainland after the ban. One machine which sold around ₹45,990 in April and May, could now be bought for as low as ₹8,050-9,200. Bitmain, China's biggest maker of cryptocurrency mining machines, on Friday suspended sales of its products and was looking for quality power supplies overseas alongside its clients, in places including the US, Canada, Australia, Russia, Kazakhstan, and Indonesia. Other Chinese miners are also are venturing overseas after the ban.

The consolidated net profit stood at ₹107 crore compared to the reported net profit of ₹108 crore in the corresponding quarter of the previous financial year, it said. The total revenue stood at Rs 1,614 crore in the quarter, against ₹1,848 crore in the corresponding quarter of the previous year.

Despite new energy foray, JioPhone, Reliance stock falls 5% in two sessions

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

RELIANCE Industries Limited's (RIL) share prices have fallen by nearly 5 per cent in the last two sessions, despite Mukesh Ambani's announcement of a ₹75,000-crore investment in ambitious green energy plans and the Group's planned, aggressive foray into the smartphoane market in the next few months.

As of the end of Thursday's session, RIL shares were down 2.61 per cent at ₹2,147.80 on the National Stock Exchange (NSE), while on Friday it slumped 2.28 per cent to close at ₹2,104.50. In contrast, the benchmark Nifty50 and Sensex indices registered a gain on these two dates.

This fall also belies the expectation that RIL stock may witness a surge post the much-hyped Annual General Meeting (AGM) held on Thursday. A senior analyst said that that shareholders have been left bit disappointed since they were expecting Ambani to announce the completion date for the $15-billion deal in the works with Saudi Aramco.

₹75,000 cr — New energy investment

17% — Stock surge in 6 weeks

2.28% — Stock decline on Friday

RIL had announced the sale of a 20 per cent stake in its oil-to-chemicals business in 2019 to Aramco. However, the deal is yet to be finalized after oil prices and demand crashed last year. The analyst added that many investors had thought that it was the right time to book profits, since RIL share prices have surged nearly 17 per cent over the last six weeks.

JP Morgan said that as expected, the smartphone and induction of ARAMCO's chairman into RIL's board was announced. "However, there was no O2C (oil to chemical) completion, no timeline on Whatsapp-JioMart, no timeline on IPOs of Jio/Retail (though chairman highlighted that payouts would increase)," it said, "Operationally, refining remains weak, while Petchem is robust (though down from March peak). Telecom tariff increase and GRM recovery remain the company's key earnings drivers".

Edelweiss noted that the move to retail and new energy is believed to be ESG positive move, but the market may have reservations. However, others say that other factors could have influenced the fall. "Capex overshoot risks remain but... it should help improve focus on RIL by ESG investors," said Bofa Securities in a note.

Jio-Google budget smartphone may secure 50 mn users

BISMAH MALIK @ Bengaluru

THE Jio-Google budget phone, touted as the world's cheapest smartphone, will likely capture one-sixth of India's 300 million feature phone user base, top sector analysts told this publication. However, Mukesh Ambani's ambition to attract the next 100 million users in India through the budget smartphone will have to pass value-proposition test, especially if it is priced at ₹4,000 ($50 above).

Faisal Kawoosa, Chief Tech analyst and founder at TechArc, said that according to their estimates, the Jio-Google phone may capture a 50 million-strong user base in India, "pushing smartphone shipments to 200 million per annum from next year onwards."

Sales of smartphones priced below ₹6,000 have shrunk over the past few years, constituting just 5 per cent of the total sales volume across the country. "This is partly due to sub-optimal user experience that these phones were able to provide. Hence, for the much touted world's cheapest Jio-Google phone to help an average feature phone user upgrade to a smartphone for at least ₹3,000 or more... it will have to meet the quality expectations," he added.

Reliance's earlier attempts to integrate some smartphone features into a 2G phone failed to capture much of the feature phone market due to sub-par user experience, analysts note, although affordability was the focus even then. However, Ambani and Google CEO Sundar Pichai have stated that the new budget phone's Android operating system has been optimized for Indian markets and will have language translation as a key feature.

Last week, Google's India head and Managing Director, Sanjay Gupta had told this publication that language enablement will be the focus for a growing base of internet users in India through the affordable smartphone. The model will be unveiled on September 10, Ganesh Chaturthi.

Performance a key factor

Earlier attempts to integrate some smartphone features into a 2G phone failed to capture much of the feature phone market due to sub-par user experience. However, Ambani and Google CEO Sundar Pichai have stated that the new phone's Android operating system has been optimized for Indian markets

Pankaj Mohindroo, Chairman, Indian Cellular and Electronics Association said that the smartphone industry continues to face a supply crunch amidst rising demand. He noted that the huge price gap between a feature phone (₹1000) and entry level smartphone (₹5,000) will be a key challenge to overcome for Reliance-Google.

"The industry has consolidated and there are major global players who are producing some good quality entry-level phones at a production capacity of 15-20 million per month with very low-margins. To be able to secure supply in this environment to produce smartphones more efficiently without any manufacturing experience and surpass the quality level at this price will be a feat," Mohindroo noted.

Higher oil prices help ONGC record ₹6,734 cr profit in Q4

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Chennai

HIGHER crude oil prices helped public sector oil and gas exploration major Oil and Natural Gas Corporation (ONGC) record a net profit of ₹6,734 crore in the quarter ended March 31, 2021 (Q4 FY21), a turnaround from a net loss of ₹3,214.41 crore in the corresponding quarter of the previous year.

However, the company's gains from higher oil prices were partially offset by record low gas rates during the period. Its gross revenue during the quarter also declined 1.2 per cent to ₹21,189 crore compared to the previous year.

According to ONGC Chairman and Managing Director Subhash Kumar, who was speaking at an investor's call, the oil major realised $58.05 for every barrel of crude oil produced and sold in January-March, up from the $49.01 a barrel realised a year ago. The period saw the company also reverse earlier impairment losses, following a re-assessment of crude oil prices, which have rebounded from lows hit last year.

Based on the assessment, the company has recorded a net impairment reversal of ₹2,613 crore for the January-March quarter and ₹1,375 crore for the year to March 31, 2021, Kumar said. He also pointed out that domestic gas prices set under the administered pricing mechanism—revised once every six months—stood at just $1.79 per million British thermal unit in the quarter, down from $3.23 a year ago.

1.2% — decline in gross Q4 revenue

$58.05 — earned per barrel of crude

₹2,613 cr — net impairment reversal

However, all is not well with the oil business either. The disruption caused by the pandemic has led the company to produce 3.5 per cent less crude oil during the fiscal year at 22.53 million tonnes. Gas output was 8.4 per cent lower. "The shortfall in natural gas production is primarily due to less offtake by customers due to COVID-19 pandemic. This has resulted in a production shortfall of condensate and value-added products (VAP) as well," he said.

But, the CMD set an optimistic outlook for the industry going forward, saying "we think the worst is behind us." Prices, he added, are likely to increase 50-60 per cent at the time of the revision due on October 1.

For the full year, FY21, ONGC registered a 16.5 per cent decline in profit at Rs 11,246 crore and a 29.2 per cent fall in gross revenue at Rs 68,141 crore, compared to the previous year. ONGC said it had declared a total 10 discoveries (3 in onland, 7 in offshore) during FY21 in its operated acreages. Out of these, six are new prospects.

Ashok Leyland reports over 6-fold rise in PAT

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

ON the back of a recovery in commercial vehicle sales prior to the second Covid-19 wave, Hinduja Group flagship Ashok Leyland (ALL) on Friday reported a 6.5-fold jump in profit for the quarter ended March 2021. The company's profit during the period was ₹377 crore compared to ₹58 crore in the corresponding quarter of last year.

Consolidated revenue of the Chennai-based automaker improved by 60 per cent to ₹8,142 crore and its Earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation (EBITDA) was up by 44 per cent year-on-year at ₹1,013 crore. However, for the entire 2020-21 fiscal year, the company reported a consolidated loss of ₹70 crore against a Profit After Tax (PAT) of ₹460 crore in FY20.

Vipin Sondhi, MD & CEO, ALL said, "We have seen recovery in Q4 FY21 and the overall performance has been better. However, with the sudden onset of the 2nd wave, the challenges for the industry continues. We are better prepared this time. With India's GDP poised to grow at 9.5% in FY'22, it augurs well for the CV industry."

According to the Federation of Automobile Dealers Association (FADA), commercial vehicle retail sales dived to 17,500 units in May 2021 from 51,500 units in April. Ratings agency Crisil, in a recent report, said that the second wave and subsequent restrictions may limit CV sales growth to 23-28 per cent in FY 2021-22, compared to earlier estimates of a 32-37 per cent increase.

Going forward, ALL said it sees good opportunities to continue to grow in its exports, defence, power solutions, LCV (light commercial vehicle) and parts businesses.

Situation bad, Centre's debt-to-GDP ratio rises to 58.73% in FY 21

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

IN another sign of the country's worsening fiscal situation, the Central government's total debt at the end of financial year 2020-21 has reached 58.73% of the GDP, the highest since 2007-08 when the debt-to-GDP ratio was 58.86%. The government's total debt reached ₹116.2 lakh crore as on 31 March 2021, registering a 6.36% jump in the January-March quarter, according to a finance ministry report. At the end of December 2020, total debt stood at ₹109.2 lakh crore.

In FY20, the ratio was 48.6%.

The Centre's total market borrowings also exceeded the revised budget estimate of ₹12.74 lakh crore for FY21. The government had to borrow ₹13.20 lakh crore to finance a part of the fiscal deficit of ₹18.21 lakh crore. The rest is financed by money collected through small savings schemes and external assistance.

During the January-March quarter of 2020-21, the Centre issued government bonds worth ₹3,20,349 crore against ₹76,000 crore in the year-ago quarter. Consequently, the rate at which the government borrowed during the fourth quarter also increased from 5.68% in the October-December 2020 quarter to 5.80%. "Yields on government securities hardened in the secondary market due to increase in supply of G-secs during the quarter. Further, hardening of yields was more on the short end of curve due to increase in weekly borrowing and also announcement of resumption of normal liquidity operations by the RBI," the FinMin report said.

PUBLIC DEBT ZOOMS

The country's total public debt (Centre and States) is likely to have touched 90% of the GDP in 2020-21, the highest ever recorded in the country. In 2019-20, the total public debt to GDP ratio was 70%

Govt may get room to cut cess on fuel: ICRA

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Chennai

WHILE the government's tight fiscal position and high dependence of fuel taxes have resulted in the continued levy of substantial taxes imposed during the onset of the pandemic last year, ratings agency ICRA said that if fuel consumption growth comes in as expected this fiscal, the government could get room to slash fuel cesses by ₹4.5 per litre.

The agency noted that the estimated growth in consumption would result in ₹40,000 crore of extra cess collections during the current fiscal (FY22) compared to the previous one—additional that the government could choose to forego by making cess reductions.

According to the agency's estimates, petrol consumption is estimated to grow 14 per cent and diesel 10 per cent year-on-year in FY22 driven by recovering economic activities and mobility.

"Higher consumption of fuels should support a rise in the indirect taxes levied on them, affording a window for a partial reversal in the cess hikes that were imposed last year," ICRA Chief Economist Aditi Nayar said, adding that cesses levied on petrol and diesel could be reduced by Rs 4.5 per litre while still maintaining the level of cess collection of fuels recorded last fiscal year.

"Such a cut in the cess rates would offer some relief to household budgets and ease the inflationary pressures related to the rising global crude oil prices," Nayar said.

Petrol prices have breached over ₹100 per litre in many states across the country, while diesel is approaching the three-digit mark in high VAT states. ICRA says that high fuel prices have played a part in retail inflation breaching the RBI's target band in May this year. CPI inflation had rise ln to 6.3 per cent during the month, exceeding the upper threshold of the RBI's Monetary Policy Committee's (MPC) medium term target of 2-6 per cent.

A cut of ₹4.5 per litre can help in reducing the headline inflation by 0.10 per cent, it noted. "A reduction in fuel prices generated by a cut in the cesses imposed, would help dampen the inflationary pressures, and prevent inflationary expectations from getting entrenched at a higher level, thereby affording monetary policy continued space to support a revival in growth," Nayar said. The Union government is estimated to have collected ₹3.2 lakh crore in revenue from the cesses in 2020-21, set to grow to ₹3.6 lakh crore due to higher consumption.

Nataraj misses direct Tokyo entry by 0.05s

BENGALURU: India ace swimmer Srihari Nataraj missed the Olympic Qualification Time (OQT) — A cut — by a whisker at the Sette Colli Trophy in Rome on Friday. With the OQT for the 100m backstroke standing at 53.85s, he clocked 53.90s, a personal best, which was .05s shy of a direct Tokyo berth. However, he is India's nomination for the universality quota.

Bajrang's knee injured, scans to assess harm

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

WRESTLER Bajrang Punia, one of India's biggest medal prospects at the upcoming Tokyo Games, injured his right knee while competing in the semifinal of the Ali Aliyev tournament in Russia on Friday. He is expected to undergo a few tests in days to come to ascertain the extent of the injury.

"He was doing brilliantly and this happened in the semifinal. I don't know the exact status but he was walking all alone when we reached the hotel," Shako Bentinidis, Bajrang's Georgian coach, told this daily. The Haryana wrestler had skipped Poland Open and preferred to train in Russia ahead of the Olympics, which is now less than a month away. "He will undergo a few scans and other tests. We will know the exact status after the tests. I can only comment on it after getting the results," he said.

Earlier, the 65kg wrestler defeated Russia's Abdulrashid Sadulaev 6-1 to enter quarterfinals where he outplayed Daulet Niyazbekov of Kazakhstan 9-0 to set up a semifinal clash. Daulet had defeated Bajrang in the 2019 World Championships semifinal. He had eventually finished with silver while the Indian wrestler had bagged bronze in the event.

WALES & DANES

Teams face each other at a major event for first time as R-16 begins

AFP @Amsterdam

GARETH Bale and Wales may have been the neutrals' favourites during their rousing run to the semifinals of the last European Championship, but as they prepare to face Denmark in the last 16 at Euro 2020 in Amsterdam on Saturday the goodwill is likely to all be for their opponents. The Danes managed to qualify for the knockouts in second place in their group despite the enormous emotional impact of Christian Eriksen's cardiac arrest during their opening game against Finland.

After the trauma of seeing their star player require CPR on the pitch, Kasper Hjulmand's team lost 1-0 to their Nordic neighbours and then went down 2-1 to Belgium, but a thrilling 4-1 win over Russia helped them advance.

And so they come to the Netherlands with the aim of winning a knockout tie at the European Championship for the first time since they stunned the continent to win the trophy itself in 1992, defeating Germany in the final in Gothenburg having famously only qualified because war-torn Yugoslavia disintegrated. Saturday marks exactly 29 years since that game, and this time the Danes, now ranked as 10th in the world, should be favourites against Wales as they look to go as far as possible for Eriksen.

In-form Italy face Austria test

The first batch of the eight last-16 ties gets underway, with the likes of Wales and Italy hoping to advance into the last eight. A look at Saturday's matches...

WALES VS DENMARK | 9:30 PM | AMSTERDAM

This Round of 16 fixture might not grab immediate attention, but one can expect a close battle between two evenly-matched teams. After the unfortunate Christian Eriksen on-field incident in their opening game, they lost their first two matches, but Denmark's impressive 4-1 win over Russia helped them end second in Group B. The Danes, who have 61 attempts on goal, need to be more clinical in front of goal. But they will be mindful of Wales and with quality players like Aaron Ramsey and Gareth Bale in their ranks, Robert Page's men can be a huge threat. Make no mistake, the Dragons' defence will not be easy to break. And they can also be a significant threat on the counter because of Bale's qualify on the ball and Aaron Ramsey's runs from deep.

KEY PLAYERS: AARON RAMSEY (WALES), YUSSUF POULSEN (DENMARK)

ITALY VS AUSTRIA | 12:30 AM | WEMBLEY

Italy have been superb: not a single goal conceded, 100% win record and have stretched their unbeaten streak to 30 games. More importantly, they have looked a huge threat while moving forward, having scored seven in the competition with the likes of Ciro Immobile having found the net twice. It is their pressing game, which has impressed, and they will be keen to continue their unbeaten streak against Austria, who have already created history, reaching the knockout appearances for the first time. Can Franco Foda's men spring a surprise and move further in the competition? On paper, this match is already a foregone conclusion but Austria do have the ability to hurt.

KEY PLAYERS: CIRO IMMOBILE (ITALY), DAVID ALABA (AUSTRIA))

4x400 men well placed for Tokyo

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

THE 4x400m relay teams, both men's and women's, were precariously placed at No 16 on the World Athletics' Road to Tokyo list. With rest of the world buzzing with competitions, the last place spots were always fraught with danger. The inter-state senior national athletics competition in Patiala was considered as a platform for some athletes to qualify for the Olympics before the June 29 deadline.

On Friday, the 4x400m men's team had a speedy round as they clocked 3:01.89s. This timing is good enough to push them to No 13 on the Road to Tokyo list. The quartet of Mohammad Anas, Amoj Jacob, Arokiya Rajiv and Noah Nirmal Tom had an opportunity to attain a better timing at the Indian GP 4 but managed 3:02.61s.

The 4x100m women's relay team that is trying to qualify for the Olympics managed 43.50, way behind their effort of 43.37s during the IGP4. The quartet of Archana Suseendran, Hima Das, Dhanalakshmi S and Dutee Chand needed 43.05s to climb up to No 16, above Nigeria on the Road to Tokyo list. The 4x400m women's relay is placed No 16.

Arokia Rajiv was satisfied with the effort. "We knew we would get a good time today," he told this daily from Patiala. "We could have got an even better time to finish in the top 10. Focus between now and Tokyo will on improving on our individual timings, but no target as such. Apart from that we will also focus on baton exchange, speed during the turn and starting strongly. Basically everything. All of us are fit and healthy. Final team (both men's and mixed) hasn't been decided yet but feeling confident that we have a chance to do well in both." All relay finals will be on June 29.

Anas felt the IGP-4 helped the team to secure this timing. "In the Indian GP-4 we were racing together after quite some time," said Anas from Patiala. "That's why we needed time to get into the groove. It gave us some momentum. Our target was to run below 3.02s. We hope to give improved performance in final."

Federer could face Nole in SW19 final

ASSOCIATED PRESS @ London

DEFENDING champ Novak Djokovic and Roger Federer were placed on opposite halves of the Wimbledon bracket in Friday's draw, meaning they only could meet in the final — which would be a rematch of their epic 2019 title showdown.

The reigning women's champion, No 3-ranked Simona Halep, pulled out of the field just before the draw began, citing a torn left calf that also forced her to sit out the French Open. That means two of the top three players in the WTA rankings are missing from the field; No 2 Naomi Osaka withdrew last week. "I can honestly say that I'm really down and upset. This period has been difficult but to miss the last two Majors has made it even more challenging mentally and physically," Halep wrote on social media.

The SARS-CoV-2 virus, which causes Covid-19, is most ideally adapted to infect human cells, rather than bat or pangolin cells, according to a study which raises questions about the origin of the virus.

Hidden China virus data found

Study of newly-found genetic sequence suggests virus originated outside Wuhan market

COVID-19

AN American virologist has managed to retrieve 13 of the 241 original genetic sequences of coronavirus that were deleted from a US database on Chinese request in June 2020.

Jesse Bloom's analysis of the sequences he retrieved supports claims that a variety of coronaviruses may have been spreading in Wuhan, much before the initial outbreak was reported by the Chinese authorities in December 2019. In other words, it presents a strong challenge to the theory that the virus originated in a Wuhan seafood market.

Bloom detailed the removal of sequencing of data in a paper he published on June 22. The paper is yet to be peer-reviewed.

"Phylogenetic analysis of these sequences in the context of carefully annotated existing data suggests that the Huanan Seafood Market sequences that are the focus of the joint WHO-China report are not fully representative of the viruses in Wuhan early in the epidemic. Instead, the progenitor of known SARS-CoV-2 sequences likely contained three mutations relative to the market viruses that made it more similar to SARS-CoV-2's bat coronavirus relative," Bloom, a virologist at the Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Institute wrote.

Some efforts to trace the origins of coronavirus has focussed on Wuhan Institute

In order to understand the origins of a virus, the scientists need to study its progenitor, the one from which all strains evolved. Until now, the earliest sequences studied are those from the seafood market in Hunan. But Bloom's analysis suggests, the virus may have undergone three mutations before the first samples were collected from Hunan.

The 241 sequences were deleted from the online database called Sequence Read Archive that's maintained by the National Institutes of Health (NIH).

The data, which was submitted to the NIH in March 2020, was removed three months later on request from Chinese researchers, who said the sequence data has been updated and was being submitted to another database.

The NIH said submitting investigators hold the rights to their data and can request withdrawal of the data

The removal of the data, however, has added to the suspicion that China is trying to hide critical information about the origins of the virus.

"It makes us wonder if there are other sequences like these that have been purged," Vaughn Cooper, PhD, a University of Pittsburgh evolutionary biologist, told the Wall street Journal.

From a scientific perspective, researchers are always keen to better understand how diseases evolve. From a public health perspective, if a virus has transitioned to being spread mostly by human-to-human contact, discovering its origins is not as essential to strategies for containing the disease.

"Questions of origins and questions of disease control are not the same thing once human-to-human transmission has become common," said Deborah Seligsohn, an expert in environment and public health at Villanova University.

Republicans have pressed for more inquiries into a possible lab leak as part of a broader effort to blame China and vindicate Trump's handling of the pandemic. Nearly 600,000 people in the United States have died of Covid-19, the highest toll of any country.

More dead dolphins wash up on Lanka shores

ENVIRONMENT

COLOMBO: Damage to Sri Lanka's marine environment from a sinking chemical ship is worse than feared, officials said on Friday, as more dead turtles, dolphins and whales washed up on the island's beaches.

As of Thursday, 130 marine animals have been found dead on the Indian Ocean's beaches since the MV X-Press caught fire last month before partially sinking off the coast after two weeks ablaze.

Sri Lanka's government believes they were killed by the hundreds of tonnes of chemicals and plastics leaking from the ship. "At least six turtle carcasses washed up along the western coast on Thursday alone," a wildlife official told AFP. He said they had also received the first report of a shoal of reef fish dying at Hikkaduwa, a southern tourist resort area known for its rich coral reefs. "So far we have collected the carcasses of 115 turtles, 15 dolphins and five whales," the official said, asking not to be named.

They include a blue whale carcass found off the northern Jaffna peninsula, about 400 kilometres (250 miles) north of Colombo, last week. Officials are awaiting the results of forensic reports, he said. The Singapore-registered ship was known to be carrying 81 containers of hazardous chemicals, including 25 tonnes of nitric acid, when it caught fire.

Around 1,200 tonnes of tiny plastic pellets and other debris that blanketed beaches have been scooped up and are being stored in 45 shipping containers.

Sri Lanka is seeking $40 million in damages from the ship's operators X-Press Feeders. Local police have launched a criminal probe against the ship's captain, chief engineer, chief officer as well as its local agent.

Environmentalists are also suing the Lankan government and the owners for allegedly failing to prevent the disaster.

Nearly all US deaths among unvaccinated

COVID-19

NEW YORK: Nearly all Covid-19 deaths in the U.S. now are in people who weren't vaccinated, a staggering demonstration of how effective the shots have been and an indication that deaths per day — now down to under 300 — could be practically zero if everyone eligible got the vaccine.

An Associated Press analysis of available government data from May shows that "breakthrough" infections in fully vaccinated people accounted for fewer than 1,200 of more than 853,000 Covid-19 hospitalisations. That's about 0.1%.

And only about 150 of the more than 18,000 Covid-19 deaths in May were in fully vaccinated people. That translates to about 0.8% per day on average.

About 63% of all vaccine-eligible Americans — those 12 and older — have received at least one dose, and 53% are fully vaccinated, according to the CDC. of the family. Scientists were considering hypotheses including a geological fault or variations in the soil's water content as the possible causes.

New type of early human found

ANTHROPOLOGY

TEL AVIV: Bones belonging to a "new type of early human" previously unknown to science have been found in Israel, researchers said Thursday, claiming to have shed new light on human evolution.

Excavations in the quarry of a cement plant near the central city of Ramla uncovered prehistoric remains that could not be matched to any known species from the Homo genus.

Researchers from Tel Aviv University and the Hebrew University of Jerusalem dubbed the "extraordinary discovery" the "Nesher Ramla Homo type" after the site, in a study published in the journal Science.

The fossils date to between 140,000 and 120,000 years ago, and the team believes the Nesher Ramla type would have overlapped with Homo sapiens, the lineage of modern humans.

"We had never imagined that alongside Homo sapiens, archaic Homo roamed the area so late in human history," lead archaeologist Yossi Zaidner said.

1ST CONVOCATION OF KISS DEEMED TO BE UNIVERSITY

KISS: Reaching out to the unreachable

It is indeed a pleasurable throwback when I recall the days I was conceiving the idea about stepping into the field of social service with a signature nature, that is, reaching out to the unreachable.

And today, I feel extremely grateful to the Almighty and humbled and overjoyed when I recall the day I had started the Kalinga Institute of Social Science (KISS). It all started as a garden and it didn't take much for the flowers to smile. KISS was kickstarted as a small sapling and within years, it grew into a gigantic tree providing a shadow to many and with an extraordinary outreach, huge and canopy-like, offering protection to millions today.

It's the story of a dream-come-true that took off with 125 students on board in 1992-93 and rose like a phoenix, an inspiring tale of transformation really beyond my imagination. As a common man, when I laid the foundation of KISS, I simply had the confidence but not in the wildest of my imagination I had thought that its growth would be so exponential and impact so considerable that it would revolutionise the pattern of education for tribal boys and girls, never detaching from its core belief — education empowers.

Focusing on its formula of the 3Es — Enable, Educate and Empower — KISS is a residential educational institution providing free education, accommodation, medical care, vocational, athletic and artistic training to 60,000 indigenous children.

The students come from 62 different tribal communities within the region, of which 13 are Particularly Vulnerable Tribal Groups (PVTGs). Of these, 30,000 students study at the main campus in Bhubaneswar.

A milestone now

It has a strong alumni base of 30,000 empowered boys and girls and soon over 10,000 students will study at ten satellite centers of KISS across Odisha. KISS has indirectly impacted over a million tribal children and youth.

This is in itself a milestone in the history of tribal children who have a chance to wriggle out of the years old backwardness and here they are.

An instrument of empowerment

While dropouts still remain an aching sore in our educational system, KISS in its course of existence, for over 30 years, has substantially checked dropouts, child marriage, gender-based harassment, left-wing extremism, proselytisation, ignorance and superstition on a massive scale with its passive intervention through education and empowerment.

It has stimulated awareness on the importance of education, girl child empowerment, upskilling and vocational empowerment, entrepreneurship, and in collaboration with the tribal communities, KISS made them the real caretakers of the ecosystem, nature and who help out in fulfilling SDGs.

Scaling new global highs

For its unimpeachable record, KISS became the first exclusive tribal Deemed-to-be University in 2017 — a status given by the Ministry of erstwhile Human Resource Development, Government of India. With its growth, I always aspired for university status for KISS to elevate its credibility as an institution committed to research for tribal studies by tribal scholars.

KISS scaled new heights when in 2015, it received international recognition and support. Since 2015, it has been accorded Special Consultative Status by UN-ECOSOC. On a record spree of climbing up, it found itself among the comity of topmost organisations. It has worked in collaboration with many UN agencies and bodies like UNFPA, UNEP, UNDP, UNICEF, UN Women, US Consulate and so on various capacity-building projects and its implementation.

Knowledge destination

Achievement speaks for itself and soon profound appreciation poured in from Nobel Laureates, legal luminaries, academicians, policymakers, statesman, writers and celebrities who visited KISS for an immersive experience. KISS has also institutionalised the KISS Humanitarian Award for awarding men and women of distinction for their service to humanity.

Soon, KISS became a destination and its giant leaps helped it scale new heights. It's an achievement for KISS that it grew to be a phenomenal point of attraction and a very distinguished panel has joined KISS Deemed-to-be-University at the helm.

Satya S Tripathi has joined as the Chancellor. He was the former Assistant Secretary-General of the United Nations and Head of the New York Office of the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP).

Other distinguished members in the panel of leadership are Dr Upendra Tripathy, IAS (Retd), as Pro-Chancellor, Dr Deepak Behera as Vice-Chancellor, Dr Pitabasa Sahoo as Pro-Vice-Chancellor and Dr Kanhu Charan Mahali as Director-General. In their tenure, KISS Deemed-to-be University will certainly scale new heights in terms of student achievements, research, collaboration and academic excellence.

The first is first and always special and so is the first convocation of KISS Deemed-to-be University to be on June 27, 2021. The ceremony will be held in a hybrid mode — both physical and virtual — taking into consideration the COVID-19 protocols. As many as 143 students will get degrees for completing their Masters and MPhil courses successfully. The brightest and the most promising graduates will be conferred with Founder's Gold Medal, Chancellor's Gold and Vice-Chancellor's Silver medal at the ceremony.

The virtual ceremony will be graced by Governor of Odisha, most affable and erudite, Prof Ganeshi Lal, who will be conferred with Honoris Causa, Doctor of Letters at the first convocation of KISS Deemed-to-be University.

The other Honoris Causa degree recipients, Odia men of high standing, achievements and accolades, are Girish Chandra Murmu, Comptroller and Auditor General of India, pride of tribals, Odisha and India; Swarup Ranjan Mishra, Member of Parliament for Kesses Constituency, Kenya and Founding Chairman, Mediheal Group of Hospitals, Kenya and Bibhu Mohapatra, fashion designer and costume designer, New York.

On this historic occasion, I express my heartfelt gratitude to all the stakeholders of KIIT for their unflinching support. I would like to express my thanks to all the well-wishers of KISS for their love, affection and belief in our cause. I owe a debt of gratitude to the staff and students of KIIT and KISS for their untiring efforts to help KISS reach the level it is at today.

KISS, which started as an idea turned into a revolution calling for the creation of more prototypes, has always vouched to provide a local solution to a global problem. We envisage KISS Deemed-to-be University to stand as a think tank for tribal-related issues of importance, to academic debate, discuss and critically analyse the tribal policies, laws, culture and importance and offer solutions to KISS for its continuous improvement in course of evolution, in particular, and to the wider society, in general.

And as Earnest Hemingway puts it, 'There is nothing noble in being superior to your fellow man; true nobility is being superior to your former self', KISS Deemed-to-be University will always move forward and get better with all humility in its endeavour towards excellence.

With the night curfew still in place, DJs in Bengaluru are a struggling lot, worried and wondering how the future of the city's nightlife will unfold

I am focusing on producing music tracks and putting DJing on the backburner since night clubs are yet to open. I am also awaiting payment for concerts held before the lockdown

– Anzar Abu Becker, DJ and producer

DON'T LET THE MUSIC DIE

SANATH PRASAD

ONCE upon a time, Fridays and Saturdays at nightclubs, pubs and bars were packed with Bengalureans grooving to some funky numbers. But the pandemic has changed much of that with the energy and vibrancy that once filled these hangouts having turned into eerie silence. DJs in the city are a worried lot, wondering whether social gatherings are a thing of the past.

Ivan Nilkon, a popular city-based DJ, says, "My shows were booked from April 2021 to June 2021, but all of them got cancelled. The second wave of Covid-19 has been very severe, and there has been no revenue for us. Things are getting harder day by day. As DJs, we are geared up to get back on stage, but people are still apprehensive about stepping out," says Niklon, who is keeping his fans engaged by broadcasting music on his social media handles every weekend.

Another city-based techno DJ Ranjana Mishra expresses concern about the curfew having restricted the nightlife of the city. "When other professions are allowed to resume work, why are artistes not allowed to get back? With more and more people getting vaccinated, there should be no problem in allowing clubs to reopen if the right health protocols are in place," says Mishra, who has been working on new music for the last three months. "But I am yearning to perform and waiting for audience to groove to my music," adds Mishra, who is keeping her fingers crossed about a performance slated in Hyderabad in July.

DJ Ranjana Mishra

Although most of them continue to keep themselves engaged with new musical tracks, they are not earning any revenue out of it. While the second wave of the infection was marred by pain, grief and agony, these artistes point out that music is one of the best healers. Which is why, Anzar Abu Becker aka a.Becker, a city-based DJ and producer, is collaborating with his partners to bring out an album comprising five tracks. "These tracks are groovy, deep and melodic. It will be refreshing and make people happy. Right now, I am focusing on producing music tracks, putting my DJing work on the backburner since night clubs are yet to open," says Becker, who is also awaiting payment for his concerts held before the lockdown.

But restaurants and pubs are now holding back from opening out their spaces to DJs because of worries surrounding social distancing. Pravesh Pandey, founder, Byg Brewski, says, "The event calendar is already in place. However, we are not calling DJs because social distancing will be a problem. I am planning to get a band to perform when the night curfew is lifted. Since the vaccination process is already underway, I am sure we will bounce back in the next 40 days because people are eager to seek happiness and get rid of the hangover of the second wave."

'WE ARE ARGUMENTATIVE INDIANS, WE DON'T REASON'

...says actor Prakash Raj in a free-wheeling chat with CE where he talks about politics, the importance of having an opinion in a democracy and the role celebs play in shaping public views

HIMABINDU REDDY

HE has carved a niche for himself in Indian cinema, across tongues. But he has never shied away from speaking his mind. Outside of the film sets, he's a vocal critic, and a champion for change. On the sidelines of his press conference ahead of the Movie Artists' Association elections, for which he's running for president, we catch up with actor Prakash Raj over coffee (without sugar). He speaks about the importance of having an opinion in a democracy, the role celebs play in shaping public opinion and the need for change. Excerpts:

How important is it for people living in a democracy to have an opinion? Or is it okay to not have an opinion at all?
It is very important to have an opinion. Whichever side you are on, there might be differences, but one should have an opinion. If you don't have that in you to question, to blurt out what you have in your mind, it becomes too heavy for you and you become very irresponsible. You have to identify yourself with what you want and only when you speak out, will you know whether you are right or wrong. You can have an argument, you can have a difference of opinion but there's no point in being neutral.

What is the role that celebrities play when it comes to shaping public opinion?
If a celebrity is a coward, society will be too. A celebrity has reached a place (in society), he has the platform, his voice is strengthened because of the people. He should make a conscious decision to raise his voice. Otherwise it's just not fair. When it comes to shaping opinion, you are an influencer. So, do it!

What drives you to speak up?
We pay taxes. You are in politics the minute you leave your house. The roads are your politics, the water is your politics, harmony is your politics. You need to question and my conscience says you cannot be quiet. I want to be identified for what I am from within than just my roles and my acting, which is not true, which is not me at all. I don't want to die before people not knowing who I am and for what I stand for. What death is that? It's dying before you die.

How have we as a society dealt with the pandemic?
We ourselves are very irresponsible. There's no scientific temper among us, nor has our society, over generations, evolved in this aspect. That is where the problem is. Complaining about the government and its leaders is a different thing, first let us look at ourselves. How responsible have we been? The culture of patience, the culture of listening, the culture of following is missing. Everybody wants to be a doctor in a pandemic. We are argumentative Indians, we don't reason. We, as a humankind, have failed. Corona is just a virus, but it has questioned the very pillars we have built our lives on.

FIT BIT

VISHNU MUDRA

(BALANCING GESTURE)

Vishnu mudra is used during yoga and meditation practice as a means of channeling the flow of vital life force energy, prana. It is also known as the 'gesture of universal balance', which is named after Lord Vishnu. Vishnu mudra should be practiced alongside Nadi Shodhana for a minimum of 5 to 10 minutes daily, prior to meditation. This mudra activates the first three energy centres of the body; the Muladhara (root) chakra, Svadhisthana (sacral) chakra and the Manipura (solar plexus) chakra. The ring finger is symbolic of the earth element and Muladhara chakra, the little finger represents water and Svadhisthana, while the thumb symbolises fire and Manipura.

STEPS

- Sit in any meditation pose — Padmasana, Siddhasana, Swastikasana or Vajrasana. Keep your hands on your knees or thighs, palms facing upwards.
- Close your eyes and take deep breaths with awareness on breathing.
- Bend your right hand at the elbow (always practice with your right hand). Curl the index finger and middle finger in towards the palm.
- The thumb, little and ring fingers should be kept extended.
- In Nadi Shodhana with Vishnu mudra, the thumb and fingers rest lightly just above the nostrils.
- Use the thumb to close the right nostril while inhaling through the left nostril. Then, the ring finger closes the left nostril and then the thumb is released during exhalation through the right nostril.
- Removing all thoughts from the mind, focus only on Om.
- Perform this for 30 minutes at a stretch every day or for 10 to 12 minutes three times a day.
- It can be performed at any time of the day on an empty stomach. Don't close your nostrils tightly.

BENEFITS

- Reduces mental, physical stress.
- Improves breathing quality and balances the Vata Dosha.
- Treats constipation, gastric acidity, allergic problems, and snoring.
- Cures asthma, headache, migraine, neurological problems, heart blockage, and depression.
- Blood pressure and diabetes can be kept under control.
- Improves concentration and also calms the mind.

LIMITATIONS

- All mudras are beneficial without any side-effects. Pressure should not be applied on the finger.

GONE TOO SOON

Many moons ago I remember taking a course which was an offshoot of the very controversial EST programme, which was essentially a four-day intensive 'Large Group Awareness Training' that had an almost cult-like following. Being in my early thirties, I primarily joined the programme to cause a nuisance and 'teach' them a lesson. What happened was that (without becoming a rabid convert) I took away a lot from it, becoming more self-aware and realising my hidden potential. I would often re-arrange the interpretations in my mind and pick the most powerful one. A process I liked to call, separating the 'riff' from the 'raff'. One very powerful epiphany which I managed to take away from this was: However different we like to believe we are, we (human-beings) aren't very different from amoeba. We are stimulated and we respond. Our stimuli may be different and our responses may be too but we are a stimulus and response multi-celled organism. No different from single celled amoeba!

You may wonder why I launched forth into the workings of single and multi-celled organisms. But the death of one of my dearest friends, Mubina Vazirali, brought all this into focus. She fought the brave fight, a warrior queen, but in the end she asked for release and peace. She came home to Bangalore to slip quietly away into oblivion as gracefully as she lived her life.

Let me tell you a story of how great a love can be.

I met Mubina as a frightened 12-year-old entering a new school in a new city. I was bereft as I had left all my friends behind. It was terrible, as by then pre-pubescent girls have already established their cliques and groups. I had to re-establish myself all over again and the thought of eating lunch alone was terrifying. I remember looking across at a sniggering group of girls while the class-teacher innocently asked if anyone would 'allow' me to sit next to them. Only one hand went up. It was Mubina! Ever since then she's been my go-to person, secret keeper, trouble shooter, best friend, sister, confidant and holiday companion. As teenagers, we double-dated, giggled over boy-friends, cried over family problems... her extended family was mine as much as mine was hers. She was tough, resilient inspirational and had a heart of gold. She was perfect! Now she's gone after promising me she wouldn't.

Rubiiiiii... that long emphasis on my name still rings in my ears. "Leave my hand, mother swear I'll come back," she used to tell me as I held onto to her for dear life on the playing field... terrified she would leave me there alone. She always came back, and re-assured me. That became a life-long habit. Wherever she travelled and whichever corner of the world she was in she always gave me her itinerary. Her message was the same for over 40 years. 'Wait here. I will be back'. Well Mubina has checked out from the building. All the lives she impacted with her generosity, wisdom and strength are writing eulogies for her, sharing pictures and snippets about their relationship with her. Funnily I don't want to share. I don't want to talk. I don't know how to encapsulate my whole life in 30 seconds. We were together before our husbands, children and other relationships. I never wanted to share her, now I don't want to share her memories. She begged me to let her go in peace and I respected her wishes. But as they were burying her I wanted to crawl into that space... to be with her forever.

Like a comet, blazing 'cross the evening sky.
Gone too soon,
Like a rainbow fading in the twinkling of an eye
Gone too soon.
RIP. My everything...

BREAKING BREAD

Give the regular sandwich a fun twist with these easy recipes, which are perfect for breakfast, lunch or even to satiate a midnight craving

OPEN-FACED EGG & MUSHROOM SANDWICH

INGREDIENTS
- Egg - 1
- Button mushrooms - 1 cup
- Dijon mustard - 1-2 tbsp
- Onion - 1 small
- Chilli cheese sauce (can be replaced with any herbed cheese spread) - 3 tbsp
- Seven seeds mix (can use any seeds of your choice or skip) - 1 tbsp
- Feta cheese - 2-3 cubes/tbsp
- Butter - 1 tbsp
- Chilli oil - 1 tsp
- Microgreens or any other fresh herbs of your choice
- Bread of your choice - Sourdough, sandwich bread, anything works
- Hot water - 1/2 cup
- Salt and pepper

METHOD
- Horizontally slice the onion. Add butter to a non-stick pan and add the sliced onion. Add 1/2tsp salt and saute the onions until they turn brown. Keep aside.
- Cut mushrooms into half, add it to the pan, add little salt and saute for a minute. Add Dijon mustard and mix well to coat the mushrooms thoroughly. Cook them until they start sticking slightly and browning starts. Remove the pan and keep it aside.
- To make poached egg - break one egg in half a cup of hot water and microwave it for 30-40 seconds.
- Toast the bread slice in a toaster until brown and slightly crisp.
- Spread chilli cheese sauce or any other herbed cheese generously on the slice.
- Spread the mushrooms and onions on the slice generously covering the entire slice.
- Add the poached egg on top, sprinkle salt and pepper and a little chilli oil.
- Crumble fresh feta on top and finally top it with microgreens and seven seeds mix.

ROAST BEEF SANDWICH

INGREDIENTS
- Beef (undercut, single piece of even thickness) - 400 gm
- Tomatoes - 2 medium-sized thinly sliced
- Arugula - 1 small bunch
- Leaf lettuce - 1 small bunch
- Pickles (optional)
- Italian basil (optional)
- Classic mayonnaise - 6 tbsp
- Red Fresno chillies - 3-4
- Onion - 1 small
- Garlic - 6-8 pods
- Kasundi mustard - 4 tbsp
- Ghee/white butter - 2 tbsp
- Red wine - 1?2 cup
- Whipping cream - 1 tbsp
- Salt
- Fresh black pepper
- Bread used: Mini baguette

METHOD

For the beef
- Preheat oven to 200°C. Season the beef with salt and a generous amount of freshly cracked black pepper. Let it rest for 15 to 20 minutes.
- Meanwhile, heat a cast iron skillet on a high flame. Add the ghee into the skillet followed by the garlic and rosemary. Place the meat onto the rosemary and as much of the garlic as you can. Sear the meat until it's brown on all sides (this should take about two minutes on each side, so about 6-8 minutes in total depending on how rare or well done you like your beef.)
- Put the skillet into the oven and let it cook for 20 minutes at 200 degrees C.
- Remove the skillet after 20 minutes and let the meat rest at room temperature for another 20 minutes. Wrap the meat tightly in aluminium foil and let it rest in the fridge for 4-6 hours at least, ideally overnight.
- Remove it from the fridge an hour to 90 minutes before you wish to assemble the sandwich. Slice the meat into half-centimetre wide pieces. Cut against the grain, otherwise the sandwich can get stringy.

For the sauce
- Once the beef is in the fridge, put the skillet back on the stove on medium heat, discard the rosemary. Pour in the red wine and deglaze the pan. Make sure you get all the bits stuck to the bottom.
- When the wine begins to thicken and all the bits are off the pan, turn off the flame and add the cream and stir it in until you have a nice rich brown sauce.

For the mayonnaise
- Chop the onions and Fresno chillies into fine pieces. Add a little salt and pepper. Mix this into the mayonnaise.

Assembly
- Make a deep slit in the bread all the way through leaving just enough to ensure the bread doesn't separate into two halves.
- Spread the mayonnaise on the bottom side, and kasundi mustard on the top. Lay out the sliced tomatoes. Lay out the sliced beef.
- Pour the sauce over the beef. A couple of leaves of Arugula and lettuce. Pickles and basil leaves. Some fresh black pepper if you like.
- Close the bread.

- Nutella or any chocolate spread - 1tbsp
- Chunky fruit preserve -1 tbsp
- Banana - 1 small

- Sprinkling of sea salt

Mixing it up

JANIN KANNOTH

With the plethora of mixers available - like soda/ sparkling water, ice, water, tonic water, soft beverages and juices - it's nice to know what goes well with what. Of course you are the best judge of what you like or what tickles your taste buds, but here are some pointers to get started with experimenting.

Whisky is usually preferred on ice (on the rocks), or one can add a bit of still or sparkling water or soda if preferred. In case of soda, it's best to chill the soda first, and the best Highballs are made with super-chilled sodas or sparkling water.

White spirits like vodka, gin and white rum go well with fruit juices. While picking up fruit juices for the white spirits, it is best to go with fresh juices. If one has to go with a canned juice, one must check if its within the expiry date, and the can is not swollen or puffed. Again, the combination of juices and spirits work best when the juices are chilled.

For weight watchers and those who are calorie conscious, just a squeeze of lime and carbonated water works well with spirits, and sugary colas and lemonades can be avoided (though low-cal colas are also an option).

While the classic gin and tonic (G and T) is becoming increasingly popular these days, it's a little-known fact that tonic water was basically quinine meant as an anti-malaria precaution in the days of yore in tropical British colonies. It was mixed with gin to make it more palatable and more readily consumed, and that has since become the refreshing classic that is trending today. From locally-manufactured to imported bottled tonics and tonic concentrates, the market has a multitude of options. You could pair your gin, vodka or white rums with your choice of flavour.

Another exotic mixer is, of course, bitters, of which a wide variety is available in the market, and adding it to your cocktails or drinks enhances the flavour and adds a different dimension. One must be careful not to use more than a drop or two of aromatic bitters because that's all that's needed, and more could be overpowering.

Petromax trailer to be unveiled in the second week of July

A still from Petromax

CE FEATURES

Petromax, starring Sathish Ninasam and Hariprriya, has completed the shooting of the film and is now involved in the post-production work. And the latest news is that director Vijaya Prasad is getting ready with the trailer to be unveiled in the second week of July. The director of Siddlingu and Neer Dose, Vijayaprasad — who is known to add a classic flavour to his films — has come up with yet another different subject in Petroxmax. The story revolves around four orphans, and how they find affection in an older woman. "How these characters meet and set their journey together comes with elements of comedy, emotions, and sentiments," says the director, who has managed to complete the shooting of the film in a record time of 36 days.

Petromax comes with an interesting star cast, and it is the first time that Sathish is associating with the director and the second time he is working with Hariprriya after Neer Dose. Jointly produced under Sathish Pictures, Studio 18, and Petromax Pictures, the film will have music by Anoop Seelin and cinematography by Niranjan Babu. "Petromax is meant for theatres, and we are looking forward to having the audience enjoy the film on the silver screen," Vijaya Prasad tells us. The director also has Totapuri that is currently on floors. Another classic drama from the director, the film starring Jaggesh and Aditi Prabhudeva, will come out in a two-part series.

PUNEETH RAJKUMAR TO KICKSTART SHOOTING FOR JAMES FROM JULY 5

The film, directed by Chethan Kumar, will resume with action-block sequences which will be choreographed by the stunt duo Ram-Lakshman

A SHARADHAA

With the government easing the lockdown, Sandalwood filmmakers are getting back to work, as they adapt to the new normal. Power Star Puneeth Rajkumar is all set to get back to the shooting sets with James, which will resume shooting from July 5. The James' team had been shooting for the film, which is now through with 70 per cent of the filming. Earlier this year, the makers had completed a schedule in Kashmir and had shot seven days in April. However, the shooting came to a standstill as the state announced the lockdown owing to the second wave.

The action-commercial entertainer directed by Chethan Kumar, which is now left with 30 per cent of filming, including talkies portions, fights, and songs will begin with action-block sequences which will be choreographed by the stunt duo Ram-Lakshman. This will be the second fight sequence to be created by the stunt choreographers for James. The film, bankrolled by producer Kishore Pathikonda James, brings together the actor-director and production house for the first time. The film, which comes with an interesting star cast, has Priya Anand paired opposite the Power Star. The two had previously worked in hit film Raajakumara. James also has Telugu actor Meka Srikanth, Adithya Menon, Anu Prabhakar, Rangayana Raghu, and Mukesh Rishi appearing in prominent roles. With Charan Raj scoring the music for the film, James' cinematography is handled by J Swamy. Santhe Haiklu has taken responsibility of the art department.

Krishna

Krishna back at work with Love Mocktail 2

CE FEATURES

Krishna is back on sets to resume shooting for his upcoming directorial, Love Mocktail 2. The actor-director, along with his wife Milana Nagaraj, who is co-producing the film, was in Leh Ladak a couple of days ago to shoot some montages. "Love Mocktail 2 required a few montage shots. We managed to shoot it on this trip. It was a short and sweet schedule for four days, and now we are back to Bengaluru," says Krishna, who shared some latest pictures with us. Krishna is hoping to hit the silver screen with Love Mocktail 2 in 2021. "In between all my acting commitments, I am equally focussed on completing Love Mocktail2. The post-production work for whatever has been shot has been completed. We are now waiting to complete the remaining portions. I'm waiting to bring out my film before December, and hopefully, Covid-19 will not play spoilsport again," he says. With Krishna playing the lead, Love Mocktail 2 has Rachel David making her Kannada debut as the heroine. The film also features Sushmita and Abhilash in the cast. Nakul Abyankar will be scoring the music and SriCrazyMindz will handle the editing and cinematography.

Krishna to resume shooting for Nagendra Prasad's film from Monday

APART from his directorial work, Krishna has committed to multiple projects and will resume shoot for choreographer-turned-director Nagendra Prasad's film from Monday in Bengaluru. The actor is starring in a romantic drama, which is inspired by the Tamil hit flick, Oh My Kadavule. The makers have managed to bring in Puneeth Rajkumar in a pivotal role, as well as Sangeetha Sringeri and Roshni in the female leads. "I will be shooting for this film at a stretch and will complete shooting my portions," says Krishna, who also plans to complete shooting for Nagashekar's Shrikrishna@gmail.com, for which he is left with only 10 days of shoot. "I will then follow it up with Mr Bachelor and Sugar Factory. After completing these commitments is when I will go to the sets of Love Me or Hate Me," he adds.

More hits than misses in this anthology series

RAY

Cast: Ali Fazal, Kay Kay Menon, Manoj Bajpayee, Gajraj Rao, Harshvardhan Kapoor, Shweta Basu Prasad, Akansha Ranjan

Streaming on: Netflix

SHILAJIT MITRA

Like many of his films, Satyajit Ray's short stories are an adolescent's delight. The Feluda series looms over his literary output, but he wrote just as enthusiastically about benign aliens, insecure film stars and man-eating plants. Take the story Spotlight, which – though narrated by a tertiary character – oozes his sense of mischief and psychological depth. Often aimed at children, these stories have endured for their brevity and wit. When not making globe-conquering humanist dramas, India's greatest writer-director was churning out his delicious 10-pagers.

Inspired by his stories, three contemporary filmmakers have created Ray, a 4-part anthology series on Netflix. Ray himself would have approved of the format – his 1961 triptych, Teen Kanya, was the first of its kind in India. But would he have approved of the films? My guess is that he would admire their experimental sheen, while being ambivalent about doing them all in Hindi. Since all four segments stretch the 50-minute mark, I've discussed them individually. The running order remains the same, though you'd be well advised to shake it up a bit. It's a fitting approach to view a show like this.

Forget Me Not

At a glitzy rooftop bar, a woman walks down with her drink. She picks out Ipsit (Ali Fazal) and attempts striking up a conversation. Ipsit is stumped. He just can't place her. Worse, his award-winning 'computer memory' brain can't fetch the particulars of a romantic night she claims to have spent with him. "Try your recycle bin," his friend jokes a few days later, confirming that Ipsit did take such a trip a few years ago. Why, then, can't he remember it?

Srijit Mukherji's film sets the general tone of the series. Written by Siraj Ahmed, this is a relentlessly slick adaptation of Ray, both visually and in narrative terms. Ali Fazal nails the mannerism of a man about to go off his rails. The sequence by the pool, where Ipsit finally blows a fuse, is starkly unsettling. My only problem is with how the whole thing ends. The extended climax Srijit designs and shoots is too expository – the cardinal sin of short story adaptations.

Behrupiya

Also directed by Srijit, this one follows a makeup artist with a peculiar bout of god complex. If Forget Me Not is a modern take, Behrupiya feels more like a peace offering to Ray purists. The Calcutta setting comes complete with trams, old theatres and dingy chinese restaurants. I was put off by the exaggerated production design and bad dialogue ("You make me feel like Juliet"). In a series sold on innovation, this is the weakest link.

Indrashish (Kay Kay Menon) is a clerk with an unhealthy obsession for prosthetics. His grandmother was a make-up supplier for Hollywood studios; when she passes, she leaves him a fortune and her book of tricks. Needless to say, Indrashish puts it to good use, fooling his landlord at first and then quickly dialing up the stakes. It all adds up to a simplistic moral yarn, more tired and predictable than gleefully grotesque.

Hungama Hai Kyon Barpa

Easily, the pick of the lot. Abhishek Chaubey's film is a charming parable on time, transience and authenticity. It begins with Musafir Ali (Manoj Bajpayee), a celebrated ghazal singer, boarding a train from Bhopal to Delhi. His co-passenger is Aslam Baig (Gajraj Rao), a one-time wrestler turned journalist. We learn that ten years ago, on a similar train ride, Musafir had stolen a watch belonging to Baig. He was cured of his kleptomania soon after, but the guilt had lingered on. Now he must sit across from Baig and wait for the penny to drop. Written by Niren Bhatt, this is a playful, elegantly realised adaptation. The central journey is peppered with flashes into Musafir's past and psyche. These ideas are present in Ray's original story, but acquire a unique flavour in cinematic form. Abhishek, coming off two heavy-hitters like Sonchiriya and Udta Punjab, seems to be enjoying himself. The film reminded me of his Ishqiya days, with his penchant for language, music and cultural ephemera.

RATING 3/5

Within the confines of a luxury coach, Manoj and Gajraj work up a storm. You can watch the entire film as a grudge match between these two giants. The word 'registan' (desert), issuing poetically from Musafir's lips, turns appropriately arid when repeated by Baig. Before they part at Delhi station, Musafir gives a striking assessment of self. "Mael-e-fidraat," he calls himself. 'Dirty-natured.' Ain't we all?

Spotlight

In 1966, Satyajit Ray directed Nayak, a seminal meditation on the pitfalls of fame. The protagonist of Spotlight, a star named Vik, is no Uttam Kumar. If anything, he's played by Harshvardhan Kapoor, the actor's mousy, self-effacing manner falling in nicely with director Vasan Bala's plans. Arriving at a small-town resort for a shoot, Vik smiles broadly for the cameras. His thunder, though, is quickly stolen by Didi (Radhika Madan), an enigmatic cult leader who's also put up there. A battle of egos ensues. While not as consistently pleasurable as Hungama..., Spotlight struck me as the bravest attempt in the series. Screenwriter Niren Bhatt takes his source material and pushes it in odd, fascinating directions.

Getting Vik to calm down, his manager details the distinctions between cinema and religion. It's a funny speech, though the film really unwinds with the arrival of Vik's girlfriend (Akansha Ranjan). Vik is strung out, while she happily stars in Punjabi Game of Thrones.

Like his last feature, Mard Ko Dard Nahi Hota, Vasan creates a distinct visual world. There are a dozen Ray references, though the best one comes near the end. Didi - a child of superstition who learned to wield it as a weapon - is a loving update on Sharmila Tagore's Doyamoyee in Devi (1960). Ray's film ends with Doyamoyee disappearing into a field; here, we see Didi riding off on a bike. In the final shot, she's wearing shades, without the tortured gleam of Doyamoyee's eyes. It's the sort of empowerment arc Ray would smile at.
